Subtitle: A True Story Of An Operative Behind The Scenes Of Aliens And UFOs

by George Philip Birney

Dedicated to Jason Mangas @ Ad Vitam Aeternam

START: This book is based on a true story and is not meant as fiction. For a quarter of a century I have been carrying this inside of me. Now the time has come to let it go, before I die.

NOTE: Whenever I use the term "IAC" - Unidentified Flying Object" - I should have preferred to use the term "IAC " - Identified Alien Craft. This term is not publicly known, and only for that reason I use the term "IAC".

On June 26, 1993 at Mount Saleve in France near the border of Switzerland in the Geneva area - where I lived and worked as a university lecturer - from 18:09 to 19:03, I and a student of mine, witnessed and filmed a huge fleet of hundreds of UFOs that slowly crossed the horizon from East to West. Some moved at about 1 mile of altitude relative to the top of the mountain where I was, and these were the ones I could record on video, using an old 8mm video camera. Most UFOs moved at about 3 or 4 miles of relative altitude and I was unable to put them on video. They appeared as tiny dots of light too small for the camera viewer. The altitude is my best guess, as it was almost impossible to estimate the altitude of spheres of light in clear daytime sky. The auto focus of the camera did not work, and the battery showed empty erratically.

The UFOs appeared like white pearls in the sky and made no sound. They all moved smoothly with constant speed, except a few who seemed to play a bit with their formation.

What was stranger than those UFOs, was the fact that during the sighting all twelve paragliders were not there, previously floating around the top of the mountain, neither were the countless hikers present. There was no-one but me and my student next to me. Only after the trailing IAC had left the scene, all people were there again, including the twelve paragliders in the sky over the mountain. There was no transition perceivable whatsoever. It was just that I realized the situation had changed. I have never experienced this kind of "time warp" before or after.

I and my student decided to keep the 8mm video tape in a vault in Geneva during a few years. I got a copy and published some screen-shots on the internet in the mid 90's. At that time I had no video technology on my website. Soon I got contacted by an undercover operative, Jason Mangas, from a secret faction in the US who leads me to uncanny realms of information, and since that moment my life started to change like I never could have imagined.

It started in Fall 1998. I got contacted by Jason Mangas, initially with the idea that I was offered some more insight in the subject of Aliens and UFOs. One year later it became clear that the contact was setup in order to find out whether or not I would be a direct threat to the AVA. And if so, I would have to be killed. A bit odd, as I only filmed some UFOs 5 years back in 1993, which does not make me an expert in Alien technologies or secret operations.

Again a year later, end of 2001, I got contacted once more by JM, who assured me that instead of me another man got killed. It is not for that reason that I consider JM as a good human. I value him in particular for having opened my eyes in a way other than I viewed the world before. I did not hear from JM anymore. I never knew exactly who and where he was. He has been and will always be my friend. May he live long and prosper.

After, JM disappeared, and to this day I haven't heard from him ever since. I miss him.

On one hand, I regret because it is so hard to come near behind the scenes and face another kind of truth. I could have refused that contact and would have lived a happy life as a rich regular family guy till well after early retirement. On the other hand, I am thankful that this happened to me, as my eyes opened to see things that other do not see. Moreover, the WTC 911 tragedy had a great impact on my life. My life has been a rocky road, no self-pity though, and ultimately I came to know what I wanted to know. This is my treasure that no money can buy. Now the time has come for me to share with you a few things that I think I know. Just a little of it. The rest I will take into my grave.

This book is a collection of underground writings about various things that are commonly dismissed as "science fiction", "sheer fantasy", "load of bullshit", "nonsense", "impossible and implausible", and so forth. This book does not quote information sources, and I do not explain how I got the presented information. I only tell you a few things of what I know. It is not a revelation of truth, simply because absolute truth does not exist. And it is up to you what you do with that.

We live in a world crammed with lies and fantasy. It has become nearly impossible to separate the truth from the lie. And so we are served a mix that manifests itself in the form of entertainment, education, and news media. The prime goal of this book is to break through the mainstream procession of information manipulation and to boldly present views that no one has seen before. Every chapter talks about something else than the other ones. Some are short, others are long.

Throughout the past decades I have been gathering diverse information on the subject of Aliens and UFOs. This book is a mere fraction of it, however, the most important part. The other part is just technology, lots of technology and some more technology that I decided not to disclose at this point. Perhaps another book.

This book addresses subjects that people would commonly believe as "top secret" or as "fantasy". You must have heard once the saying "truth is stranger than fiction". Well, this is the book to underscore that.

The reason of this publication, is that I want you to know why your life may not be safe. And JM's original words explain that in a better way than I would ever interpret.

I have always wanted to know the truth, however, now I realize I should never have wanted to know the truth. In this book, I leave the talk to my friend Jason Mangas. My own messages to him I deliberately do not include. These I will take with me into my grave.

Join me now in the story that no Alien wants you to know.

Hello George you don't know me but I am a current employee of the state of California as is evident by my email address. I have some information about the "UFOs" you have seen and somehow managed to capture on film. If you are interested reply promptly and I will grant you a brief glimpse of information about the said subject. You must realize that there will be a price for this information and I am not talking money. If you reply your life will no longer mean what you think it does and you will see and hear things that will answer every question you have ever asked. Don't show or speak of this to anybody.

Well, George, all the answers lie within the "blue water" which this nation has in its possession however it is indeed foreign in one way or another. Most of the people who look at these phenomena and ask questions look erroneously into places like Area 51 and NASA for answers. While Area 51 - and even Area 76 here in California - are testing grounds for top secret and super secret aircraft, they are far from what you would call extraterrestrial. Most of these aircraft, I believe, are kept somewhere in Alaska or Colorado where I believe they are launched although I have only heard rumors about this. What I do know is that pieces of these crafts are regularly brought to and from the Jet Propulsion laboratories which unlocked most of their secrets including the main material used in building them. I have never seen an extraterrestrial I have seen a lot more than that. I am tired of writing if you have any questions as there are certainly many send me a list and I will answer as many as possible.

Terran and Alien entities have been building these 129 bases day and night, unceasingly, since the early 1940's. Some of them were built even earlier than that. These bases are basically large cities underground connected by high-speed magneto-levitation trains that move with super-sonic speed.

The average depth of these bases is over a mile, and they again are basically whole cities underground. They all are between 2.66 and 4.25 cubic miles in size. They have energy beam based drilling machines that can drill a tunnel seven miles long in one day. The Black Projects sidestep the authority of Congress, which as we know is illegal. Right now, the New World Order is depending on these bases.

Here is a list of the names of places around the world on planet Earth, the Moon and planet Mars. At these places there are Alien IAC Bases. First of all, on planet Earth, summary:

Abisko Park - Acklins - Ambler - Allott - Antigua - Antofagasta - Apeleg - Apisolaya - Arecibo - Atotonilco - Avalos - Baja California - Ballangen - Barbuda - Barbuda North West - Bermuda Barbuda - Big Timber - Bismark - Black Rock - Cafayate - Casas Grandas - Catamarca - Cerro De Punta - Cerro Mesa - Cerro Torre - Charcos De La Risa - Cherokees - Chiquihuitlan - Chubut - Churubusco - Coahuilco - Coalcoman - Collierina - Colville - Cordillera - Cordoba - Corvocado - Cowles - Cruz Del Eje - Cumberland - Davenport Hills - Delaware - Eagle Lake - Eleuthera - Elkhorn - El Salto - El Troncon - Egvekinot - Espinazo - Evarts Harlan - Filomena Mata - Flagstaff - Fond Du Lac - Fort Collins - Ford Wayne - Gallinas - Garden City - Gore Range - Grants - Greencastle - Hualfin - Irapuato - Jacksonville - Jalpan - Jokulsaarglijufur - Kap Farvel - Khatanga - Kola - Kvilskjokk - La Union - Lake Michigan - Lanin - La Rioja - Lake Mackay Reserve - Livingston - Loncopue - Logan City - Long Lake - Loxicha - Lowell Observatory - Maipo Volcano - Maravatio Ocampo - Matamoros - Mendoza - Metztitlan - Monterrey - Mount Everett - Mount Greenough - Murra Murra - Napoleon - Neuquen - New London - New York State - Norbottens Laen - North Platte - Novaya Zemlya - Ojo Del Carrizo - Paguete - Palatka - Palo Blanco - Penjamo - Piedra Del Aguila - Piseco - Pozos - Progreso - Queretaro - Real De Catorce - Richardson Mountains - Ringgold - Rio Mayo - Rondane - Ross

Lake - Ruby Mountains - Salta - San Bernardo - San Cristobal - Seneca - Sierra Famatina - Sierra Madre Del Sur - Sierra Punilla - Somerset Island - Sosneado - Sumidero - Tajique - Tejupilco - Tequisistlan - Terre Haute - The Dalles - Tlahuitoltepec - Tlapa Comonfort - Tortolas - Troms - Turtle Lake - Uruguay - Utsjoki - Wapello - Zitlaltepec

This list is not complete and some items may be a bit outdated, however, does mention most of the Alien IAC bases. In this category, the individual listings may change over time, such as for the number of occupants, etc.

The "blue water" is not really water, George, but the name given to the material that allows these craft to travel in the manner that they do and is the reason they have the appearance that they do.

The "blue water" is a grouping of tachyons held together by the nuclear strong force that is one of the four basic forces that exist in our universe the IAC itself contains a series of modified nuclear reactors which when initiated create the tachyon shell this shell protects the IAC within which is not a saucer but a sphere and only when it is in motion and the shell is flattened into a saucer shape does it look like a disk the shell allows the IAC to pass through the light barrier which it can attain by regulating its own mass and seemingly pulling space to it instead of pushing its way through space how you drive it

I'm not sure I have never seen the controls however humans can pilot them more effectively, I am told, then the extraterrestrials. I don't believe the ETs are here for the oceanic water and I am almost positive they have nothing to do with the pyramids now however at one time they may have had a hand in their creation but I would seriously doubt that too.

The primary materials used in creating these IACs is just basic plutonium ionized and most of the circuitry is composed of gold making it almost impossible to mass produce these on Earth even the ETs have serious trouble in creating new IACs I have heard that the IACs we see today are the same ones they have been using since what we would refer to as 20,000 BCE at least.

"Conventional" energy and transportation industries have no stake in any of this and are truly unaware of it all. There is a government that is a worldly government how much power it actually has I am beginning to wonder myself as a result of some of the horrors I have witnessed recently.

There is no weapon that can affect the weather in any way and we in no way can control the planet. That is one lesson we both have learned over the years both them and us; they more than us. About the communication; they can't speak in the way we do however they are aware of every language spoken on Earth as they have been watching for a long time.

They communicate to us through what's basically a keyboard that can convert words into speech if necessary or we can just read what they had to say. We can't communicate their language in the way they do because of the bizarre way they communicate with a mixture of high amp sounds and olfactory stimulus.

We all work for that "other" government by the way we just have to realize this and ask ourselves how and wonder what our role is. The time and space thing bores me and I don't really have an answer to that but I'm pretty sure Einstein got it right.

I seriously doubt the Aliens saw you, when you were cam-cording their flights, and they definitely were not recording it. I am under the impression that they have objectives and they never go for joy rides or sightseeing. You say you want to know what questions to ask. Well you've already asked them. What price will you have to pay and why did I come to you? Those are the most important questions we will all ask.

I am not at this time inclined to tell you of the horrors that I have seen. Now about what I am willing to talk about. Why they are here and why they have been coming here for so long. In the "culture" that I have grown up in it is common knowledge why the ETs keep coming.

The ETs believe in an omnipotent being similar to the Judea Christian God almost unbelievably similar. They come here for what are in effect religious rituals that they do with human beings. They are strongly influenced by this "religion" and we are a large part of it. As far as Jesus is concerned, he was definitely not an ET. The ETs actually believe he was the son of their God which they believe is the same as the God that created us and in fact in their recorded history some of them have claimed to have met him however I seriously doubt that fact.

They also come here to perform genetic tests to try and understand why we are so similar to them (two arms, two legs, two eyes, etc) well when you break us down into chromosomes we begin to see within the first chromosome we see no difference in fact even the ACF7 (acting-cross linking protein is intact) it is not until we move on to the second chromosome that we begin to notice a difference in our genetic make-up first off they have no AHHR (aryl hydrocarbon hydroxylase regulator) gene or the AOX1 (aldehyde oxidase 1) gene and while they do have the AUP1 (ancient ubiquitous protein1) located within us at 2p13-2p13 and the PI7 (protein inhibitor) gene they are slightly modified and the RPS7 (ribosomal protein S7) is there but it is almost unrecognizable at first glance because it is so different. there are many differences within our genes and if you would like a more detailed list.

I could make one up for you however I'm only telling you this as a little background information that helps explain why we are so similar. The tests they do on these people are truly horrendous and is the main reason we aren't more friendly also the religious rituals are not exactly what we would like to see are people do. They also perform tests on our animal and plant life.

On their planet I have been told that they have no other species that could be considered an animal. It is odd that they would be the only ones on that planet however a very good theory on why this is has been postulated that everyone in "the culture" believe to be true. They have these IACs that are far superior to anything they have since created. The actual technology that they have attained is somewhat pathetic. They believe they are outcasts put onto that planet a long time ago long before they began to record their history.

Put there by whom is what they are in constant search of and why. They are very lonely beings they have extreme emotions as far as fear and anxiety are concerned they have never been known to have any kind of courage they do have a high sense of joy and it is that which probably is the reason why they keep searching because they find each new revelation so exiting. The "other" government really only wants one thing, a one government world; a goal they have had for over a thousand years. They do most of the communication between us and the ETs however some world governments such as the United States, Britain, Russia, and Japan are aware of them.

Well George, let's first clear-up a couple of things about our Moon.

The Moon is exactly as it appears; a lifeless rock orbiting our planet. Americans have landed there and the Russians were commanded not to and they obeyed. Why? I'm not sure of I think they were plotting a voyage to Mars but that too was killed by the "culture".

Neil Armstrong, in the only press conference he ever gave, said something about "layers of truth". Quite a cryptic statement, however, the message came through. In a way.

It has been now half a century that discussions whether or not the Moon Landing is a hoax or has been mocked up in a studio on Earth, in Hollywood or at Area-51, and so forth.

But ... the question whether or not the astronauts landed on the Moon is DIFFERENT from the question whether the Apollo/LEM landed on the Moon or something else did. Layers of truth ...

I say: The Apollo/LEM did not land on the Moon the way was suggested on the film, neither did the LEM take-off from the Moon. The astronauts did land on the Moon, but not with an Apollo craft or LEM. What landed on the Moon was an IAC of Terran origin. And the laser reflector and other things got transported to the Moon by that Terran IAC with Terran crew on board.

The LEM disconnected from the Lunar Orbiter during the orbital speed of Mach 6+. The LEM had only one engine and some steering hair-dryers and had to decelerate from Mach 6 (three times the top speed of a Concorde) or 1.25 miles a second down to a few feet per second. Now could you please explain me how the LEM could decelerate at such fantastic rate in such a short time? No aircraft or spacecraft can do that even in high density atmosphere. Air-breaking in a vacuum? No shit.

And the famous laser reflector has been put onto the Moon by one of the IAC crew.

By the way: Why is it that all NASA's images of the Moon are gray-scaled, over-exposed and under-contrasted? To remove details and colors that we are not allowed to see! If NASA can make tack sharp images of distant galaxies, then why not of our Moon? NASA had that technology 50 years ago.

We all know that colors reveal much about the composition of the surface and about the difference between natural and artificial objects.

The astronauts used "analog" Hasselblad cameras that had the equivalent of at least 84 megapixels of resolution, compared to today's digital camera technology. That is several times better than a top professional camera of the 21st century! Those Hasselblad optics still outperform our modern camera lenses. Come on, George, you don't believe that black & white shit?

And why is Hubble Space Telescope not used to photograph the Moon? Too much detail to see? What else could be the reason? NASA is hiding evidence of civilization on the Moon. The HST never gets publicly aimed at the Moon. Too much to reveal.

All the discussions and hoaxes and mock-ups and other things were deliberately put in motion only for reasons of distraction. Distraction from the real truth, the ultimate layer of truth. The Apollo/LEM concept was also meant as an "example" to other nations on "how to go the Moon", of course, to lead these nations astray from better technologies.

All advanced technology such as anti-gravity, zero point energy, magnetic drives, time machines, Vrill crafts, those bell shaped Jen Seits Maschiennen (JSM are Nazi built time machines for inter-stellar travel that almost no one has heard about), particle beams, and what have you, has been remained hidden from the public to this day. The Nazis took that technology to both the US, after WW2, and to Neu Schwabenland. In this regard, Germany has never lost WW2.

And so the old fashioned space shuttles, satellites, missiles, impactors, probes, canons, bombs, aircraft, and so forth, are here only for reasons of distraction. The real technology is completely covered-up. Public technology is at least a century and a half behind, compared to what is actually kept hidden.

One of the most questions asked to the astronauts is "could you see the stars?". Well, the simple answer is, truthfully, in the daytime no-one can see stars. Let's not forget, the astronauts were on the bright side of the Moon. Yes, I know, the Moon is supposed to have no atmosphere and has therefore no atmospheric glare. But it has never been proven that the Moon has really no atmosphere. If the Moon had no atmosphere, then how could the dust spread around? The sunlight gets dispersed in the atmosphere, causing a curtain of light through which no stars can be seen. Like daytime on Earth.

Moreover, the photographs got all edited as to remove the sky. Obviously there were things in the Moon sky we're not supposed to see, such as clouds and machines. The "stars" topic was not the real issue! That was just to cover-up the floating objects issue.

The videos, allegedly made by the astronauts near and on the Moon, should have been "scratched" by cosmic rays, i.e. radiation damage always do show on foil film. But no scratch was ever seen ... How come that the astronauts were so perfectly protected against cosmic radiation? They must have been in a perfectly shielded environment such as an IAC.

So, it seems that certain energy fields of electromagnetic nature do protect against cosmic radiation, as experienced in IAC crafts. And that layer of truth applies to the Apollo astronauts. They went to the Moon with IACs. A whole different technology. Yes they all did land on the Moon, but not the way as seen as on TV! On TV you saw a movie studio where Stanley Kubrick did some footage.

How else could the astronauts talk normally while doing a descent with a noisy rocket engine. I know how noisy the engines can be. And the lunar lander is nothing more than a frame around an engine. I can assure you that no normal conversation can take place when that engine is running. The lunar lander should normally shake, vibrate and scream and cause a lot of dust blown up there. None of it on TV. Nothing. The entire approach and landing went smooth like a train arriving at the station. Only an IAC can land that silent way.

Of course the Moon Landing fakers were not stupid. They deliberately put some errors in their creatives, simply because they too would love the truth finds its door. And the best way to do that is to do a sloppy job when dictated by the invisible government guys.

NASA does not even know about the other space program. Poor chaps, totally kept dumb with their fossil fuel based stone age engines. JPL my ass. And even Area-51 is kept dumb about the "other" space program. Yes they know about IAC tech, but not about the program. Area-51 is a mere dumb cover-up factory. The real stuff you find in Area-76 and especially in Area-99. California has more than just orange trees.

Special note: Did it ever occur to you, George, that only one picture was made public of Neil Armstrong, however, many different pictures of Buzz Aldrin from the Apollo 11 mission? Check-out all history books! It does not make sense, for the first man on the Moon, comparable with Columbus setting foot on America. Where are the Neil Armstrong pictures? Of course there are various reasons to come with. I have mine, and you may guess which ones.

Okay, that's the Moon stuff. So you want to know about the Arctic region, known by these governments. Here is an overview of the bases out there.

Arctic

Alaska - The location of this base is about here: Brooks Range, Central Part, Area of Philip Smith Mountains and Horace Mountain.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Weaken human resistance. The resources of this base include: 50 Extra terrestrials, 600 Frozen Grays, 50 Hybrids, 50 Humans and 30 Cargo crafts.

The statement of work of this base includes: Although it is relatively easy to see IAC crafts landing here, this place is tightly guarded. They bring into the planet what comes from outside, and deliver what should be taken away from here. They like to take some people too, never older than 35 years, in particular females. Only genetically interesting males are also abducted.

There is also the biggest energy generator, for their own use, on this planet. The energy is mainly used for weather regulator devices, unseen by us, to provoke holes in the ozone layer and to change climates. One of the main causes of the melting polar ice.

Alaska - The location of this base is about here: Brooks Range at Schwatka Mountains near the town Ambler.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Genetics. The resources of this base include: 450 Extra terrestrials, 150 Humans, and 1200 Abductees.

The statement of work of this base includes: Aliens bodies are of flesh but rather robotic. In their society it is no big deal if one loses a body. They are studying our races organs, as they want some of our organic bodies because they give more and better sensation in sex and eating. So, the big plan is to preparing a new race.

Many abducted and missing children and babies end up here as this is what is most needed to breed a new race. Young human females are artificially and also naturally inseminated by Aliens.

Canada - The location of this base is about here: Richardson Mountains Mount Hare.

The function or purpose of this base includes: News Control. The resources of this base include: 250 Extra terrestrials, 205 Hybrids, and 65 Humans

The statement of work of this base includes: Aliens are interested in what is told about them. They love disinformation. They want us to use satellites, internet and computers in order to have an easy access to disinformation. Too bad for the Aliens that globalization of information is having an explosive growth, as they have difficulties in monitoring the information contents and information flows.

Also, through the internet an increase of truth about the Aliens is being revealed. This confuses the Aliens, as they have been used to control everything as they consider themselves the rulers even though they are hidden leaders.

News control is still in their hands, but there is no such thing as web content control . . . although . . .

Canada - The location of this base is about here: British Mountains border Alaska Mount Greenough.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Industrial. The resources of this base include: 450 Extra terrestrials and 600 Hybrids.

The statement of work of this base includes: This is one of the very few peaceful bases, in that the engineers feel at home and enjoy the work. Broken parts are brought here where they are repaired or modernized. There are no IACs of their own as they receive those for repair and if needed use them. They must also make tests to see that they function properly.

Both IAC crafts and medical and spying devices are maintained here. After overhauls, they are redistributed all over the planet.

Greenland - The location of this base is about here: Area Cape Farvel.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Receive shipments from the Moon.

The resources of this base include: 20 Extra terrestrials and 50 Aborigines.

The statement of work of this base includes: Distribution of logistics and resources. In order to ensure proper traffic, they are using an airline control system. Local population from the Greenland area is abused for experiments and slavery.

Iceland - The location of this base is about here: Jokulsaarglifur National Park.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Patrolling. The resources of this base include: 55 Extra terrestrials, 85 Hybrids, 65 Humans and 22 IACs.

The statement of work of this base includes: The Northern part of Europe is a convenient place to have command over this populated continent. Therefore these Alien bases are important for the development of our civilization, being Europe the biggest power after USA. But the plan is to keep Europe kept down. People who are rather well educated have to be kept in uncertainty, unemployment, drugs and great worries about diseases. They wish the destruction of the strong European nucleus, so the European Parliament is well infiltrated.

Their job here at this base is to check if anything unusual is occurring in the Arctic zone. Even Humans are working as IAC pilots here. Another task is to suppress the whole area of Iceland. These people are kept busy with old saga. Tight control on the Northern population as these is the toughest on the planet. Reason why Scandinavians are kept under tight taxation control.

Iceland - The location of this base is about here: Central Iceland nearby a volcanic crater.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Alien emancipation. The resources of this base include: 130 Extra terrestrials, 98 Hybrids, 173 Humans and 12 IACs.

The statement of work of this base includes: Study of integration into the present civilization, that is, handling situations in order to be accepted. We should fear, respect and need them to bring order into our society, reason for creating greater and greater disorder every day.

They use devices to teach them how to communicate in our languages. English is widely used, as there should be a common means of communication throughout the planet. Their main task is to analyze. Other Alien bases train people to create riots, wars, misery, and so forth. The only peace allowed is the one they are preparing themselves to impose on us. The plan is to be a military-police peace, where the rulers will be overtly the Aliens.

The news media is saturated with messages of hopelessness in handling so many catastrophes, famine, wars, viruses, and so on, all provoked by the Grays with programs already tested from Andromeda.

To degrade people, it is meticulously planned that they cannot find work, even though there is much to do in all directions to improve living conditions for millions of people. People with no work, no income, feel useless and give no real resistance to any change. They think that anything will be better than what they have. This is a trap the Aliens want us to fall into.

North Pole - The location of this base is about here: North Pole Partially under and on the surface of the ice.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Communication hub for other bases. The resources of this base include: Zero people and 1 Computer system.

The statement of work of this base includes: Routing of communications, used by Aliens from Andromeda.

Novaya Zemlya - The location of this base is about here: Novaya Zemlya

The function or purpose of this base includes: Repairing of space ships

The resources of this base include: 70 Extra terrestrials, 50 Hybrids, 80 Terrans, and 40 Space IACs under maintenance

The statement of work of this base includes: Spare parts collected from IACs that had accidents(Terran metals cannot be used. Receive shipments from other planets in this galaxy, but the main components come from Andromeda galaxy.

Russia

The location of this base is about here: Tundra Peninsula of Kola

The function or purpose of this base includes: Implanting body and mind

The resources of this base include: 50 Extra terrestrials, 120 Hybrids, 50 Humans, 90 Patients, 600 Animals, and 5 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Medical team to research effectiveness of implanted parts in human and animal bodies. Control their effectiveness on long distance range. Each implant is connected to their computer system to monitor and control the person who is implanted.

This base is well protected by means of a screen that consists of psychotronic waves. The same waves, directionally transmitted, are also used to interfere with anyone who does higher mental work or studies.

So-called patients, originating from Earth, are reprogrammed to become infiltrators around the world. There are more than 5500 of them amongst us, who live a robotic life.

Russia

The location of this base is about here: Strait of Bering Area Bay Cresta Town Egveknok

The function or purpose of this base includes: Interfere with Far East

The resources of this base include: 500 Extra terrestrials, 250 Hybrids, 900 Humans, 40 Small to medium crafts, and 20 Large crafts

The statement of work of this base includes: Main goal of this largest and busiest base is to keep US influence away from Asia. This is jointly done with the base in South Australia.

Asian infiltrators are used as government advisers. Basic program is to keep population at the lowest possible intelligence level and biggest possible misery. Investigations are done to find out how to decrease the population in so-called natural ways.

Genetics are applied in order to create a single Asian race, which is a long term goal. Currently there is an increasing number of Hybrids that are a mix of Asians and Aliens.

Training in politics, synthesizing knowledge of customs from the different regions, and implanting is taking place. Many Asian people are forced to come and to go.

Siberia

The location of this base is about here: Area Chatanga intersection of Cheta and Kotuja rivers

The function or purpose of this base includes: Keep Russia in misery

The resources of this base include: 70 Extra terrestrials, 65 Hybrids, 200 Humans, and 30 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes:

By transmitting psychotronic waves over the Russian population in order to keep them on the bare state of primary survival. Learn through implants many languages to be able to mix with leaders.

Special devices are attached to IAC crafts to spread psychotronic waves during flight in order to suppress people into despair, hopelessness and apathy.

Because of the neighboring nation China, the Aliens see China as a problem as there are too many people to be kept under control. They plan to send diseases over to China to eliminate at least half of its population. Possibly in a few years from now (now is 2001), major diseases will have done this work for a large part.

More than a hundred medical doctors are involved with this project.

All the craft that have been confiscated by humans have been as a result not from crashes but as military hits by fed up governments as the ETs continue to break pacts that they have made; they don't understand the idea of treaties.

The only possible crash may have been the famous Roswell incident as we did not have the technology then to shoot one down however as the crafts are highly stable and almost perfect creations I highly doubt that it happened.

I am unsure whether the type of engine their IAC uses denies free energy. The technology we have attained is all human ingenuity; we have taken nothing from them in fact they have very little that we would want other than of course the crafts that they probably didn't build in the first place and due to a severe lack of resources on their planet could not today build properly.

There are 45 Alien IAC Bases in Mexico. So it may not be sheer coincidence, that IAC event over there. Here are some of them, as you requested, George. I know you know already part of it.

Coahuila

The location of this base is here: Sierra Madre Oriental Area of Nueva Rosita

The function or purpose of this base includes: Genetic Experiments with people taken in the United States and in Mexico. Their blood support bank. Fresh blood is what they need most. It is smeared on ETs bodies and absorbed through the skin. Hybrids can eat food and can reproduce through sex, which clean ETs can't. They are reproduced in laboratories.

Base with many children, when grown they are trained as soldiers. They need an army loyal to them, but they make them "extra" loyal through mental implants, which make them obey even against their will.

The base contains and/or consists of: ETs 110 Homo Sapiens as Scientists, 15 Hybrids, many of them, when ready are taken to supply other Bases. Children, men and women, captives number in approx 230. Some of them are sent back with "messages" These numbers are in continual variation, also due to gruesome deaths.

They are testing how much radioactivity bodies can take, also reactions to vaccinations, how bodies degenerate with "medicines", but also which really can heal. As there is no problem if somebody dies, they can make any kind of experiments they wish. From a dead body, if the blood is not infected, it is used, as well as any organs they might need, for their "scientific" work. Here there is easy access to transplantation, incubation, DNA mixtures, for "real science" to develop!

The base contains and/or consists of: 10 IACs for Human transport

The location of this base is here: Sierra de la Fragua.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Animal experiments. Processing and supplying food for the Bases that are in that surrounding. Creating new animal races with samples from other planets. Animal and human mixtures as experiments. They have all kind of animals, even hens and birds.

The base contains and/or consists of: 65 ETs, 20 Homo Sapiens as prisoners, 95 Hybrids 95, 6,750 Animals, and 6 Craft.

There is also great suffering for the animals, but no one cares. They work to accomplish a purpose which is given as an order. There are no feelings nor ideas about anything else.

The location of this base is here: Area Charcos de Risa

The function or purpose of this base includes: Political Information Center for Mexico and Central America. Training area for terrorism and guerrilla work, also for infiltrators and plants. Not many people are needed to do the work, but they MUST know their area. There is an area for implanting mission orders, as well as for "erasing" them again, when accomplished.

Big computer area. They make their own programs, which must be approved by Boss in the United States. They have people on posts near governors and leaders of State. These people have brilliant university careers. They have been abducted, and forced to work for them. This is done by using strong mental pressure, mostly totally unknown to the victims.

Many political speeches are prepared here, and those not done by them are checked to ensure that things are done after their policy. This is really a suppression of our "legal" governments, but most of them have no idea about this manipulation.

The base contains and/or consists of: ETs 80 Homo Sapiens as staff 85. All have high degrees in the Humanities and Political Science, some even have great experience in government management. Hybrids as menial workers approx 150 in number, IACs special for abducting and fast transport of people, about 11 on the average.

Computers, each specialized in a country's political, actual state. They unstable each country that seems stable and prospering. For them to take open power control, they need chaos and misery, otherwise we would not accept them.

Space for 50 prisoners where they get psychiatric "help" from ETs as doctors. Machines for influencing crowds, used for elections as well as to arouse people to fight for which ever they want us to fight against!

Chihuahua

The location of this base is here: Area Casas Grandes

The function or purpose of this base includes: Main purpose is hidden. It is a storage place for boxes used for implanting the area of Mexico and Central America and the Caribbean area. There are many trapped beings which are ready to be sent on specific missions, mostly as government interference or to take over certain important people.

There are some 1,350 boxes.

There can also be found tubes with concentrated carbon monoxide, nitrogen, used to depress populated areas, so that people wake up tired after sleep. They have means of producing epidemics of flue, colds, bad nerves. There are 2,000 tubes there.

Hidden are also the master programs for this area. Weather regulator crystals in transparent circles, through which sun rays can be directed. Store room for replacements, 2,112 weather circles.

Copies of what is found in other Bases computers. This security is needed as they feel lost without their programs. These things are not connected to any computer to avoid computer "diseases". It appears to be an IAC repair Base and training place for IAC crew. An "innocent" Base! Pure pretense.

Abducted people are brought here, implanted and sent back to spread miss information about them. Wreckage of IACs in the entrance. If anyone comes near it, he will be pulled into its center and disappear!

A busy landing place as supplies are fetched, data brought in. Landing place for bigger IACs which come with their supplies. No IACs of their own.

The base contains and/or consists of: Machines which observe anything that comes near the area. Any wave will be registered. The only protection they do not have is against earthquakes.

The base contains and/or consists of: 65 ETs, 30 Hybrids, 150 Homo Sapiens as prisoners

The location of this base is here: Not far from the prior Base, situated South East from it, area Ojo del Carrizo.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Keep border area in turmoil. Works tightly with Bases in the USA. Help drug smuggling. Have all data on South Americas drug cartels and interest in their expansion.

They wish population to be weak as they are afraid of strong people, especially if they are able to think and organize. Abducted people come out from here drugged for life. These also come from the US.

Links with drug Bases on the planet. Give protection to drug dealers and get all drugs for free. They are making drug experiments, also in food and as pollution. Many get killed with this "Scientific" work. After the body dies they trap the spirit which they later use for their purposes. These beings are kept in electrically charged boxes where they are kept in an unconscious state.

The base contains and/or consists of: 70 ETs, many Drug Computers, 220 Homo Sapiens as "Scientists", 150 Hybrids, Space for 1,000 prisoners , and 22 IACs on the parking lot.

Any one approaching the area gets drugged. Often they get their prisoners through drugs. A very dangerous Base because the results of their "Scientific Research" is destruction for the population.

The sad thing is that we from this planet, are responsible for it because we supply them the needed materials. For us this is business, for them, take control over us, also over those that are "helping" them. Some in the governments are aware of this interchange, but can't talk because they are afraid of consequences.

If governments would not be afraid, the ETs would have NO chance, as there really are not that many of them!

The location of this base is here: East of Jimenez, area Bolson de Mapimi.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Experiments with riots into the USA, Mexico and Central America.

Tough training. When body dies they must report back to Base. To ensure this, implant techniques are used.

The base contains and/or consists of: ETs 80, Hybrids 40, Homo Sapiens, all as prisoners 82

Maps and computers where they receive the programs which they must follow strictly. Their trainees infiltrate riot areas, and their job is to keep these riots alive. Many of the people as staff are doctors and psychiatrists. It is their responsibility that the trainees succeed. Equipment such as clothing and adequate weapons. They train on the surrounding grounds as their bodies must be fit.

Space for 200 trainees at a time.

No IACs of their own.

Nuevo Leon The location of this base is here: North West from Monterrey Sierra Madre Oriental Area Espinazo, San Jose de la Popa.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Keep an eye on Monterrey.

Usual control of population to make them tired and sick throwing chemicals in the cities. From here they work on other cities such as Laredo, San Luis Potosi, Hermosillo, Chihuahua, Torreon, Ciudad Juarez, Hidalgo del Parral, Saltillo, Tampico.

Military training in how to abduct people, to kill without being seen, in how to fly their IACs and throw whatever is ordered, in fast take off and landings, in how to work as a group. Here it is checked if the devices they put into their heads function correctly. This army can be run by remote control.

The base contains and/or consists of: 400 ETs, 600 Hybrids, 45 IACs of many different sizes, no Homo Sapiens.

The location of this base is here: Southern part of Nuevo Leon Area Santa Rosa Palo Blanco.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Communication Center. Here orders from Montana Boss are issued and sent out to be executed. Also from here they control their execution. They have all programs available to be able to coordinate actions.

People in this Base are high rank officers. All missions have to be learned thoroughly, if necessary, data are implanted, which means, put in, in an unconscious state. This is also a place where information is gathered and sent to the Boss. They work with exact facts. All their actions are well planned. Here people are trained for espionage. When back from a mission, debriefing is sometimes done with lie detectors.

If prisoners are taken, interrogations are done under torture or drugs. Drugs are much used for this purpose. But these people never come out again. Their bodies are then used for other purposes, in other Bases. This is the reason people see so many IACs flying all over the planet.

There is also a direct communication to and from Andromeda.

The Base is surrounded by mortal gas, so anyone approaching dies of it. The real reason for these deaths is never given. Otherwise a very quiet Base as most of it is mental work.

The base contains and/or consists of: 50 ETs as officers with rather powerful minds, 50 ETs with lesser ranks, and up to 150 prisoners. Fast moving IACs about 11. And 7 usual ships. Special IACs to reconnoiter areas, with high technical equipment which can shoot very exact, if necessary, and not be seen! The reason being that they fly so high. They also have 17 ETs trained in Telepathy.

The location of this base is here: North West from Monterrey Area Cerro Carrizal.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To produce CHAOS. Training place for soldiers. They take a specific area or country at a time. Very concentrated work.

The base contains and/or consists of: 30 ETs, and 100 Hybrids, IACs of small size, but very fast, about 8 in number.

Homo Sapiens comes and goes. They only take in the people they need at that time. There is space to work with 80 people at a time.

Baja California The location of this base is here: Baja California Norte Sierra de Juarez, Area West from San Felipe not far from Cerro de la Encantada.

The function or purpose of this base includes: A Computer Base. Handling Los Angeles, San Diego, Tijuana. Data on their citizens. Sorting out things in order to manipulate area. They also plan actions, but these, naturally, must be approved by Boss. Also a surveillance Base.

Can take prisoners for gathering information, most of them are sent back again. Checking telephone lines through their computer systems. TV programs in this area are also checked. These actions comprise also parts of Mexico such as Sonora, Baja California, Sinaloa, Ciudad Juarez, El Paso. They have great interest in causing frontier problems.

The base contains and/or consists of: 40 ETs trained on population manipulation, 40 Hybrids, 20 Homo Sapiens training in their computer technology

Some atomic war heads, which can be used to make believe that "someone" is attacking USA. Hawaii is also their zone of interest.

Durango

The location of this base is here: Northern part of the State Area San Bernardo

The function or purpose of this base includes: Money Base for Mexico and Central America. Planning and the execution of it in different countries. Also deposit of gold which they receive for their "services".

We receive from them "new technology", but what they give us is nothing new, nor important for them.

There is a VIP area for bankers, they meet here to discuss conditions, and here the main agreements are made. Allocation is given for guerrilla and terrorism work. Much money is invested in these things.

Training is the most difficult part because of so many different idiosyncrasies. Here the Mexican ""crisis" has been planned.

The base contains and/or consists of: Very refined bank equipment. These computers have access to the main Banks and all their accounts.

They keep an eye on the big flow of money, and know who the wealthiest people are. Some of them even become their allies.

ETs 125 Hybrids used for maintenance 20 Homo Sapiens as Economic Scientists 120 Space for 21 visitors. This is very elegantly furnished.

A small exclusive Base.

The location of this base is here: South West of Durango City Area El Salto

The function or purpose of this base includes: Patrolling and executing missions which other Bases have planned. NO mission is ever executed without the Boss's approval!

Patrolling and checking Baja California, Sonora, Sinaloa, Nayarit.

They are afraid of Aliens that could come and help. Their technology is only so advanced for us on this planet. We have been kept in total ignorance of interplanetary trading and the different ways of being able to communicate.

The base contains and/or consists of: 50 ETs specialized in piloting IACs that can execute delicate missions.

155 Hybrids as mechanics for their ships.

100 Homo Sapiens trained to accomplish missions. They are used not to scare people with Alien bodies. When they arrive here they are already trained. Here they are just given the last instructions and implants in order to follow orders EXACTLY.

Their work depend on the communication they have with the other Bases in Mexico, USA and Central America.

The location of this base is here: South of Durango City Area El Troncon

The function or purpose of this base includes: Genetic Base. Procreation of Hybrids for the area. Scientific research with Homo Sapiens bodies. When the spirits leave the bodies that die under their experiments they get trapped and sent in boxes to another Base for programming.

There are no stops for their experiments, so they can use any kind of medicines in their tests. Our bodies interest them very much, reason for so many experiments. Naturally they use all what they breed through sex and in test tubes as Hybrids. Only the best results of these experiments are being used in missions and as higher rank soldiers in their tightly managed organization.

The base contains and/or consists of: 25 ETs as Scientists. This experiment has the interest of their Central Base in Andromeda. Their technology is highly advanced, but their bodies are rather degenerated, far too robotized, even for their own taste, reason for sending their Scientists.

ETs as soldiers 120. They obey orders with no discussion. Hybrids, babies in process of growing as fetus 8,000. Hybrids in different ages 200. Homo Sapiens as Scientists 20. Homo Sapiens as prisoners, used for their experiments, of both sexes and of different ages 1,200.

Very advanced genetic equipment, composed of a mixture from this planet and their home planet.

IACs for human transport and food 15.

Here they bring things they need from specific hospitals from all over the zone (Mexico and Central America). Many people without documents end here as slaves and "Guinea pigs". They are most interested in YOUNG people for their procreation purposes.

Zacatecas

The location of this base is here: North Western part of State Area Atotonilco

The function or purpose of this base includes: A Spy Center. Transformation. Make twins out of specific people for fraud purposes. They "double" a person to make a twin, have to use same race and same blood type. Need even teeth prints if possible.

Also "twin souls". For both purposes a big investigation is needed, which require a lot of work. Here they train the ones that will gather the information.

To take films, their technology is far more advanced than what we see in the movies. A tracer is set into a body, then their machines can follow his or her way of acting and living. Voice is also transmitted.

The base contains and/or consists of: 50 ETs with highly sophisticated equipment

Abducted Homo Sapiens to see if they can be fooled, as tests. Scientists and doctors to perform the necessary operations, but ETs are the most able.

Homo Sapiens as staff about 56 and 120 Hybrids. Space for people coming and going approx 45 and 10 ships

These can't be kept too long because if they should be considered dead, the trick can't be used. Preparations are lengthy, executions are swift.

The location of this base is here: Northern part of the State Area Apizolaya

The function or purpose of this base includes: A Purely Scientific Base. Agricultural experiments. Gas containers in which they put seeds. Our agriculture is for them far too slow. Theirs is faster with bigger fruits. As they plan to take over this planet, they wish things to look something like what they like.

They do not care for the present destruction because they plan to reconstruct things after their taste and needs. Their energy supply is different from ours. They generate in each Base the energy they need. Have very effective water.

Experiments in how to make bodies stronger or weaker through the food they eat. This is also a way to control population!

Gases also protect the area from being approached.

The base contains and/or consists of: 25 ETs, 30 Homo Sapiens, and 30 Hybrids

Refined research equipment. Equipment to humidify and to use solar light at their will in order to decide temperature. Different fertilizers, through these they decide if it will be good or bad for bodies. Great part of their experiments are in fertilizers.

The location of this base is here: North East part of the State on the border to Coahuila near Avalos La Ventura (Coahuila) -

The function or purpose of this base includes: Intelligent Service for the area of Mexico and Central America. Training for the job as well as coordinating data received. They are interested to know what are we terrestrials afraid of. How much do we know about them. Their power consists in their secrecy. They work with very exact maps to know where to direct their ships.

The base contains and/or consists of: ETs 45 Homo Sapiens, all mentally "prepared" to work for them, as staff 35. Hybrids are considered too stupid to work here.

Place for training people, all naturally Homo Sapiens, about 30 of them.

No IACs of their own as this is a mental working Base. Have highly developed communication systems, also in IACs and places outside our planet. Their work must be coordinated with the rest of their system. This highly organized system is vulnerable if some Bases should break down, as it is a very balanced system.

Dangerous to approach area. Anyone coming near is taken as prisoner. Their main interest being data

Homo Sapiens working for them would love to get rid of the mechanism which keeps them under their control. They feel that no one is able to help them out. On the planet we need trained people for such a task.

San Luis Potosi The location of this base is here: Sierra de Catorce.

The function or purpose of this base includes: High Technology Machine Repair.

Storage for surgical devices. The place where these are made ready for use. As they come here in separate parts in order not to get damaged before use (such as needles put in heads, used to monitor people), highly trained technicians prepare them. There also are measuring gadgets for temperature, ozone, and all the vital signs of life on the planet, as they want to have this under their control.

They can "help" development of different disasters. Where there is something, they increase it! They are not all powerful, but can mess things up. Make and repair machines which can send rays, chemicals and thoughts, etc. Long distance listening devices, computers. There are specialized and very valuable parts as well as people, all from Andromeda. These kinds of Bases are the only ones able to repair their refined technology. With these machines they can cure ANY diseases. Have prisoners to test things before delivery which causes lots of suffering.

People that disappear in the area are used for this. They can be of all ages, and are just kept there for experiments.

The base contains and/or consists of: 21 ETs mentally very powerful, 55 Homo Sapiens only as prisoners as this is very confidential, 95 Hybrids as slaves, and 4 IACs for fast delivery.

Machines to produce their electrical power. For this they use a special mineral which they split. Catorce mountains have some of these minerals, reason mines in the area are kept closed.

The location of this base is here: Sierra Madre Oriental Area between Ciudad Valles and Rayon.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Check on the Coast of the Mexican Gulf. No one may enter without their permission. Check IAC traffic as well as oil production. Coastal area Information Center. Exploiting witchcraft zone, an excellent mean of people manipulation with fear and ignorance. Tend to help witchcraft. Zone kept in misery. Control, as usual, politics, which means, no real progress is achieved. Lots of torture and suppression going on to get the information they want.

The base contains and/or consists of: 200 ETs, 99 Hybrids, Homo Sapiens learning witchcraft and some methods of healing (to give them extra power), including a kind of hotel place for 70 people at a time. IACs for abduction and people transport are about 10, and IACs for keeping an eye on the coast and the Mexican Gulf about 9.

Part of the "training" is to put a monitor on them which makes them have "visions".

Guanajuato

The location of this base is here: Mountains of Dolores Hidalgo, not far from River Laja.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Gathering knowledge about the Mexican population, patrolling the central cities of the country. Their mission is that no one should come in from the outside. They will not permit that any other people from outside this planet should come to communicate with us.

As they want the planet for themselves, it is strictly guarded. Military Base. People trained to handle this specific area. They need knowledge about their leaders. Very much on the watch for anyone appearing that could help people out of their misery and ignorance. If such a person should be detected the government will be informed. This suits the Mexican Government very well. From here they infiltrate areas to create protests and fights against the current situation, which they themselves are creating. Peace is NOT allowed, prosperity either.

From their IACs they can see the flow of life, thus they can control it. Very politically oriented. Basically they function as "watch dogs". Check on television channels to ensure that nothing really true about them comes out. Through this media truth would too easily be spread. They are so few in comparison to us that they do not feel safe, especially if truth is known about them. All soldiers are trained to handle a sudden attack on the terrestrials.

Being so few they must strictly coordinate their movements. They are always prepared for such an order to come, and the weapons for that occasion are unknown to Homo Sapiens. These weapons are made for a "Blitz Krieg" (fast take over). They also know where to land in case of a takeover order. If this coordination fails, they will also fail in taking us over by extreme force and surprise.

The huge danger is in our minds. It is the main reason that we act in fear and with no coordination and no preparation. We are acting in pure ignorance, but knowledge will make us free!

The base contains and/or consists of: 140 ETs, 200 Hybrids trained as robot soldiers, and 150 Homo Sapiens from whom they gather data and train to infiltrate, plus 9 very fast IACs for reconnaissance work and patrolling. Hidden weapons of different categories with appropriate ammunition. Computers. Population data to know whom to abduct.

The location of this base is here: North West of the State Area Ciudad Dr. H. Alvarez.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Training Center for People to Infiltrate. Lots of surroundings with populated areas to check if training is OK, that is, they do not get recognized or looked at as suspicious persons. Genetic experiments, all kind of mixtures. They work with abducted people from Mexico, as well as from Central American countries. Easy to get people for experiments as there are so many with no documents.

The best ones are trained for guerrilla wars and insurrections. As usual, population to stay in ignorance, criminality, fear, health and economic worries, this being the only way to subdue them. They are afraid of these people's reactions if they find out about all this cheating and lying. They are instigating behind the government!

Great electromagnetic field in the area.

The base contains and/or consists of: 260 ETs, 210 Homo Sapiens as staff, 45 Hybrids, only those produced by their experiments, 250 Prisoners, 9 IACs, and a lot of equipment to fetch food, blood from different animals.

Here too, anybody that dies under their experiments, is trapped as a being and used for their purposes, giving them orders and sending them to influence any person they consider needs their "guidance". For this they have machines that look as small canons, with which they direct the being to the target. This is done mostly at night, from their extremely fast ships, on which there is only place for the pilot and the shooter. This can with ease stand still on top of any place they wish. They make no noise, but tend to radiate some light as these powerful machines are driven with their own electricity supplies.

Machines to implant sleeping persons. These "soldiers" are extremely well equipped. Even their cloth are not from here, they tend to make them "invisible", has to do with absorption of light.

The location of this base is here: South West of the State Mountain area Santa Cruz de Juventino Rosas and Irapuato.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Machines to make topographic work and for building as well as for maintenance of Bases. Here we have heavy machinery also for preparing their landing space. A very small area is needed for this.

The base contains and/or consists of: 47 ETs, 30 Homo Sapiens as technicians, 25 Hybrids, 10 special very large IACs for this work and transport.

They supply the whole zone.

The location of this base is here: North East from Mineral de Pozos, not far from the border to Queretaro Area Jalpan -

The function or purpose of this base includes: A Power Production Base. Extracting from the mountains the minerals necessary to produce their power supply. IACs run on the combustion of that energy. This is stored in boxes, is also used for generating energy in the different Bases. They use a mixture of different minerals, then make fission. Result: a high concentrate of usable energy.

The process is done in containers made of amalgams from other planets which are highly resistant to a big potential of energy. This energy when contacted with our vegetation burns it as it is rather toxic. This happens when they land or take off, as more energy is needed for these movements. When not used with such strength it is not harmful, reason Bases can use it as their energy supply.

Their job is also to check satellites for undue interference. They are afraid of anyone getting into the World Wide Communication Net, and be able to suddenly appear with the truth about the situation. The Communication System being as controlled as it is, can in reality easily be taken over with adequate technology. Their basic fear is to be found out. If a single person divulges the truth, he is immediately eliminated. They are terrified of groups with any spiritual and technical Power. Their "high" technology would be frail if known by any of us.

The base contains and/or consists of: 19 ETs, mostly as technicians, No Homo Sapiens as they are not supposed to learn this. The power is in the hands of those that control energy! 50 Hybrids.

No IACs of their own. This place is kept as a great secret. Satellites are checked with small gadgets which are shot out, and electronically retrieved. Kind of spying small computers that can attach themselves to the satellites and transmit to Base. They look as totally innocent devices.

About 1,000 boxes ready for anyone that needs supplies. These boxes are of different shapes and power, depending of what they are going to be used for. The boxes are being changed, they bring empty ones, and take the full ones.

The location of this base is here: South West of the State, not too far from the border to Michoacan West of Penjamo.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Industrial Base. Control over population and industry. They want to know what is been produced. Fear of real improvement which does not come from what they give us. They get some products done by us, there is an exchange happening here, they give us some of their technology, we give them "permission" to take the people they need for their work. Some in the governments KNOW what is going on, but they have great dreams of the power they can get through such connections.

Some of our people are visiting this Base, where they show what they wish our people to see. Only that the ETs are really master cheaters! Their job is to keep the people quiet. From here they send depressants, chemicals put in the air, and the usual stuff used to keep population in apathy, worry, despair, hopelessness!

Center for gathering civic data from government computers where we are all registered for different "reasons". But, the main reason is total control over planets population through their knowledge about us. Not everybody in the governments is aware of this. They give us lots of computer technology, as they then can get lots of data!

The base contains and/or consists of: 60 ETs trained in Public Relations and programming. Homo Sapiens trained as intermediaries, these go out and do business, contact people, while they are strictly monitored by the ETs, and 195 are ETs using our type of bodies.

Elegant quarters to receive important people. 12 Elegant IACs for fast transport.

Computers for population, industries and business. An extremely well organized area. Also in communication with drug dealers as they clearly can see their traffic. They like them as they destroy youth and weaken resistance. The day they take over, these will be the first ones to be exterminated. They have, naturally, also data about who the big drug dealers are!

QUERETARO

The location of this base is here: Area Amealco.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Keep Population Depressed and Tired. Their zone of action is Queretaro, Morelia, Northern part of the State of Mexico.

Keep an eye on the area, control radio stations. Keep frightening population appearing in different areas. Receive orders to handle specific persons and gather data about political or revolutionary movements. A relatively small Base, as an outpost of a more important one. Infiltrate areas to keep peasants angry.

The base contains and/or consists of: 20 ETs, 18 Hybrids, some Homo Sapiens as prisoners, which come and go, as they are abducted for data, or fast, "special" handling. Space for 60 people at a time. Sophisticated machines for throwing gases at population and for fast implanting of the subjects abducted. 8 IACs.

The location of this base is here: Northern part of the State Between Jalpan and Tamazunchale, naturally situated in the mountains.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Gathering People for their Experiments. Food Supply Base. Also experiments with food to find the fastest way to produce what the Bases need. They also use lots of animals for their organs and blood. A kind of "butcher" Base.

The resources of this base include: 15 ETs, 30 Hybrids, 300 Homo Sapiens as prisoners, 800 Animals of different species. 9 IACs for these transports. Supplies are being fetched when needed.

The location of this base is here: Southern part of the Sierra Gorda.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Extraction of Minerals. They make a blend with the ones from Andromeda, to repair their ships. Isotope system used.

The base contains and/or consists of: 20 ETs. and 53 Hybrids. It is kept as a secret because they do not want us here on earth to produce these metals. IACs bring and take materials, but they do not have any IACs of their own.

HIDALGO

The location of this base is here: Northern part of the State Area Coahuilco.

The function or purpose of this base includes: A Mechanical Base. Monitoring the air space of: Cuba, Yucatan and southern part of Mexico. Also guarding the communication system. There is an "iron" hand on this country as Mexico is considered the key to Central and South America. Basically, NO data that could help this part of the planet should be able to pass through their control system. All the new systems of communication are connected to their computer systems. World news. Their job is to guard areas where Bases cannot for lack of mountains.

The base contains and/or consists of: 71 ETs, 90 Hybrids, 25 IACs with very special equipment to connect with satellites as if any communication is coming from outside. There are other ETs that are eager to help, but this being a restricted zone they try not to interfere.

There is a protection around the Base, anyone coming into that zone freezes, as an "ozone frost". Their IACs can pass through, but our planes would "freeze". In communication with Bases on the whole planet.

The location of this base is here: South West of the State Area Progreso

The function or purpose of this base includes: Political Base.

Mexico City, sending waves to keep people in apathy. Abduction for political and economic purposes. Must keep all this mass of people in a state of worry. They are very much on the watch that nothing efficient is done in this area. They have the means to clean the pollution but they are making it worse.

Some politicians come here and get instructions. If they obey they get help to keep their "Power". If they disobey they die in different ways. Anyone that gets in contact with them gets a monitor in his body, unknown to him or her. In this Base there are VIP areas, and all is presented in a very agreeable way.

Strong mental machines to influence people, made for crowds or for individuals. They have total knowledge about the political situation in the zone. Politically, the most important Base in this part of the world. They have the entire citizen data computerized, Also a special computer for Economic and Political movements. They can easily decide the future of the country through this manipulation of politicians and masses. Their whole power comes from this 100% hidden approach. People think that these are their thoughts! Reason for no rebellion. The real enemy is unseen, "invisible", but somehow perceived.

Main reason for so much confusion all over the planet. The real enemy is this way, never attacked! People's attention is continually put on wrong targets, which give no solution to their problems. On top of this they continually work with a hell of a lot of miss information.

A great part of the catastrophes happening for the time being are planned by them, that is, different Bases make different programs. Central Base approves and sends out orders for their execution. Our politicians must take only a partial blame for the chaos we live in.

The base contains and/or consists of: 150 ETs, 80 Hybrids, 70 Homo Sapiens as staff to contact the needed people inside and outside of the Base, 3 elegant IACs, 6 high speed IACs for abduction missions, and 15 long range IACs for USA and South America.

Refined computer systems separated in areas of interest. A great amount as stock for sending on people, such as implanted beings that execute their orders. Different specialized gases, sent mostly at night (the main cause of people waking up tired and depressed).

The location of this base is here: Western part of the State Metztitlan District.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Organizational Base. Organizing what is going to happen in the area most populated of Mexico. A very small Base. "The Heart of Mexico and Central America". Very hard to approach even out of body!

All looks very quiet. All information gathers here. Things can be seen on monitors. A huge amount of information is processed here.

Also a Base for the highest ranking officers. Here we have the Boss of this area. As it has command over all other Bases, they need no ships. What they need is a perfect communication system with the "Bosses" all over the planet and with Andromeda's Central Base.

Here is decided which part of the population is not needed. Whom they have to be weary of. Who can be of use. How to do the different movements so as not to attract attention on them. Doing what they can to keep all maneuvers "invisible". People on earth have a terribly hard time understanding where all their wars, crisis, misery, diseases come from. As long as the source of the problems is kept out of view, it cannot be solved.

The base contains and/or consists of: 80 ETs as executives. 335 Hybrids who work as clerks as well as for menial work. Their most sophisticated equipment is in this kind of Bases. There is a strong mental power in this Base.

Michoacan The location of this base is here: North West of the State Area Maravatio de Ocampo.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Getting Contact With The Population.

Seeing how their people are being accepted. They look just as ordinary Mexicans. The ones sent out are rather robotized and monitored, but once they look "normal", they are the best carriers of information on all levels of society. Training and implanting of subjects they think fit for use. The ETs are used to a monitored society.

Here different kinds of monitor systems are tested. Implanting is much safer for them than hypnotism. To start people off they like to use villages. The trainees behave mostly rather quietly, not to draw attention on them. School children in their teens are often taken. For this purpose small children are not used. There is a school "system" and very hard study, not under the students volition. They are put on drugs, so some of their reactions can become crazy. Part of their intention to pervert society.

The base contains and/or consists of: 45 ETs, 60 Hybrids that look most as Mexicans because Latins were used in these experiments, 20 Homo Sapiens as teachers in order for the prisoners not to be too afraid. Space for 100 prisoners. 20 IACs all for human transport.

The location of this base is here: Sierra de Coalcoman Area Coalcoman de Matamoros -

The function or purpose of this base includes: Guarding The Pacific Coast. Weather manipulation with special rays. They can increase or decrease rain. A very technical Base. Patrolling the Pacific Coast on whole Central America. Also helping out in Mexico City.

The base contains and/or consists of: 15 ETs, 25 Hybrids, 9 Homo Sapiens learning how to fly IACs, 10 weather machines made in Andromeda, there to control the weather is a natural thing. Long range "missiles" to shoot down anything they wish. For them it is a kind of "Nintendo Game" (game boy). Mostly they shoot after receiving orders to do so, but sometimes, rare, just out of fun.

They can easily monitor or stop functions in our planes with their superior technology. They are rather bored, so they love to have some action. To play a hidden game, as they do, can, in the long run be tiresome. Many would like to come out and be known, but are not allowed. They also shoot down anyone approaching this planet. They can easily fly out in the stratosphere. This is the huge advantage of their special metals, fuel and technology. We are using far too much force to do this. NASA is a joke to keep us interested and happy about our "progress".

The real technology is not given to us. These guys are restricting our communication with other planets, and keeping us in a state of stupidity! Many are tired of the game, but can't see a way out. They feel trapped here and left alone. There are IACs from other planets outside, also patrolling in order to stop the supply flow of materials and soldiers coming in. When they come in they come in via the Base on the back side of the Moon.

Estado De Mexico Area Atlacomulco.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To Protect Drug Traffic. Distribution area for drugs. Drug experiments. They know all the big drug cartels and their leaders. Want these people to have influence in politics, reason they protect them, but only until they take over. After that, they will be eliminated, as they are NOT part of their society.

The base contains and/or consists of: Sophisticated drug ware houses, made for easy and fast delivery. Some of them are shipped with their IACs to South America, Central America and USA.

The resources of this base include: 125 ETs, 220 Hybrids, 35 Homo Sapiens to keep in communication with drug dealers (Big ones), even heads of governments are often involved. People on drugs as experiments, place for 185 people.

They send them back into the society as druggists with the purpose to produce different drug disasters around in different places, but mostly where they produce the greatest effect such as in big cities in USA, Mexico and Central America.

The location of this base is here: South of the State Area Tejupilco de Hidalgo -

The function or purpose of this base includes: Coordination of what is happening in the areas of Toluca, Mexico City, Puebla, Pachuca. Information from the whole area. They want a tight control as there are so many people here. Basically very busy to ensure things do not get in order and in peace!

They know many details of life, and can therefore interfere where they think is most convenient for their purposes. There is the usual training and preparing for action, all done like robots, that is, no one goes out on mission without a monitor.

Naturally, people from the area are used, not 100% with their consent, although the idea of working for the ETs fascinates many. None has the total scope of their work and purposes.

"Help" is often used to make their actions look good. The base contains and/or consists of: A whole set of movies for mimicry, which means, the people they train learn to act exactly as needed. Could be just to learn how a specific person talks or how he acts. This way they can send people that will be accepted as their "own".

The resources of this base include: 150 ETs, 80 Homo Sapiens, 65 Hybrids, 150 Space for people in training Usual Homo Sapiens weapons. Lots of different clothing. Some very elegant rooms, for the infiltrators to learn how to move in high society political circles. In their attire, listening devices are set in as well as devices to make microfilms.

The ETs know more than the politicians do, and can therefore sell information as exchange for things they need from the society, such as abduction of people, killing animals, help with drugs etc. A very rotten exchange!

Extremely efficient machines to listen on phones, even to hear through walls, more sophisticated than we see in the movies.

The resources of this base include: 7 IACs on which many of these devices are installed (they are busy doing missions), 6 IACs for human transport for VIPs, 5 ordinary IACs for abduction and transport.

The nice rooms are also used for VIPs quarters. Fabulous computer systems for communication, for plain data and for programming. Also their programs must have the OK from Boss in Montana.

GUERRERO The location of this base is here: Sierra Madre del Sur Area Sierra Campo Morado Area Chilpancingo and Filo del Caballo.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Witch Craft. Superstition has to prevail. What makes witchcraft so mysterious is only the lack of knowledge of their different techniques. These they can learn and improve in this Base, although they do not give all the data they have, by far. Through these witches the ETs look good and powerful! Really, why would they hide if they were so powerful?

Also different cults are trained here, and given help. They do not wish a unified religion. In this Base the ETs really appear as good!, helping cults, etc. They teach healing with the use of energy, such as "pulling in energy from cosmos".

These witches after they are given training command great areas of population and keep the peasants under their control. Basically ignorance is what they want, so these cults and rites fit their basic purpose.

A rather small Base with many interesting devices. They also work with "dreams" so that the trainee can use them to communicate to people. Basically manipulation of the minds.

The base contains and/or consists of: 25 ETs, 30 Hybrids, some 40 Homo Sapiens as staff, all having witchcraft as their main interest, space for 80 trainees, 8 small IACs, Implant devices, and Laser gadgets to produce apparitions

Special rooms where people can see extraordinary things, made with projectors. People, when in this room have been drugged through food. They believe they have been on a very special trip in outer space! This belief makes them feel powerful! In this area they make appearances.

They train also for Central America as this spreads easily where there is such poverty. Trainees stay in a state of daze which makes them look as if they were in constant communication with some supreme beings, which they are, with the suppressors of the planet!

They abduct generally under the effect of drugs, so many believe that they have been taken outside of this planet. A whole miss information technique. Trainees would swear that these guys are good! They earn good money afterward as they are better than usual. They also work in cities, a very efficient way to infiltrate. They get into direct contact with politicians in these countries and have power and influence over them.

The location of this base is here: Western part of the State, near the border to Michoacan North of La Union Area El Limon.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Guerrilla Training Base. Training also for Central America. Tests are made in areas of Guerrero and Michoacan. They are sent out, then brought back for further improvement.

Trained to become leaders, be followed and obeyed. Here people LIKE what they are doing. Great emphasis is given to their ability to contact groups already in existence, and give them some "great new ideas. They are allowed to say that they will provide weapons. There is plenty of it in the Base.

The resources of this base include: 38 ETs specially trained in guerrilla warfare, with the purpose to keep these wars going on for years, 47 Hybrids, some Homo Sapiens comes and goes or dies.

They always work with specific groups, for this they abduct the people they need, kill the ones that seem useless for them, and keep on working with those that will be fully under their mental control. The trainees think that all is their own will. They are not at all afraid to die. Should this occur the being returns to "Base".

This is very much a mental warfare, reason so few can dominate so many! 5 IACs for abduction and transport, here hybrids are of great help, they are well trained to do this job. The brightest ones are used here. Space to work with 60 people at a time.

The location of this base is here: East of the State, near border to Oaxaca Tlapa de Comonfort -

The function or purpose of this base includes: Genetic Experiments. Interested in Hybrid production, also want to improve their own bodies, which in reality are rather weak. They are interested in recovering sex abilities which they have lost because they have worked as a kind of robots for so long. ETs are all under a superior command, a very dull life, but they know nothing else! In reality they are interested in some change. They can see how we live! But, control over their acts is so big that they have forgotten to think by themselves. This is an important reason for so many genetic experiments. As these are done all over the planet, results are compared from different races.

The base contains and/or consists of: A big laboratory equipment -

Food is also tested as their bodies and ours have different organs, and therefore feed in a different way. Their way to cure is also different to ours. Rays are used, but not always laser. Their scan system is of a much greater precision. Even though many are killed, they do have the possibility to heal.

The resources of this base include: 72 ETs, 230 Hybrids of their own production, of different ages, 16 Homo Sapiens studying as scientists, 150 Homo Sapiens for experiments of different ages, but there is no interest in older people as this is a procreation area. Only 4 ships.

PUEBLA

The location of this base is here: South of the capital of the State Area Izucar de Matamoros, mountains South East from this town.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Business and Population Control Area .

Taxco, Cuernavaca, State of Mexico, Puebla. Again, this is the heart of the country as well as an important place for all countries south of it. Interest in economy and international business. They like to keep Mexico as the key to the South, this gives them indirect power. Amazing, but they do know about the big businesses, big foreign investments.

They have an interest in some form of specialized medical machines as well as parts for their ships, Bases and computers. Also, naturally, they need certain supplies for their daily life.

All such contacts are made by straw men with firms where the merchandise is delivered. Later these goods are taken, mostly in trailers out to specific isolated and guarded areas, and taken to the Bases, as needed. They are interested in creating their industries. Food production also has their attention for two different reasons: their own needs and how to weaken population through chemicals in food.

Weak bodies means much less resistance to their plans. People in the government have something to say about multinational contracts. Each part of the planet has specific things they need. This Base is not only aimed at Mexico, but has a broader interest.

Toluca state plays an important part because of so much industry. They also become powerful as money gives power and influence in the highest circles of the society.

They also have a hand in the abductions of big and wealthy business people all around the world. Terrorists groups are under their control, so chaos is also made in the highest circles, especially if someone does not do what they wish done! Again, this threat is not known to those people. Terrorist on their own would NEVER have such power.

The base contains and/or consists of: 6 IACs for these transports, 14 IACs for area control, some computers specialized in multinational firms as well as in government businesses, 200

ETs, mostly all with economic training, 95 Hybrids as clerks and menial workers, 45 Homo Sapiens with knowledge about business at the highest levels, internationally, and who have great expectations of the power they will achieve!

A kind of international Base. No "guests" are allowed, but from here very well trained people go out and mingle in important meetings all over the world.

They know what kind of hidden arrangements are done on a governmental level, this naturally includes Drug money, which is the biggest money movement in business, as they have control over the Drug Cartels. This way they have automatically also control over the Big Businesses around the world.

Shares will go up and down under their planning.

The location of this base is here: Sierra Zapotitlan West of Tehuacan Area San Juan Ixcaquixtla.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Political Base. Mental training such as telepathy. Very hard to approach this Base mentally as there is mental energy stopping it. Training on hard concentration, learning to "see" through walls. Only people with innate abilities are accepted as students.

Learning to transmit without need of any material device. Purpose of this is to be able to work in confidential areas without raising any suspicion. There are 10 of this kind of Bases around the planet. If one is not using force, one is more powerful than the one that is depending on it, therefore I can slowly penetrate the area.

From here the most confidential programs are monitored. These people only use telepathy, but the staff from the Base get data through computers. They have ways to ensure the validity of the transmissions. If these people fail they are executed as they know too much. Otherwise they are top Intelligence Service. They are also the most tightly monitored of all the people working for the Grays

They must train Homo Sapiens to go into the desired areas. They came as FUN, but there is no way to leave it now. Feels as "captured minds". Used mostly for destructive purposes. They wish they could leave! Sad, as all abilities are used in a negative way. A well trained being can run the body of any person, but the greatest interest is in top politicians.

They have films taken of all the people they want to monitor. Implants are also used on their staff.

Here we have extremely able beings that would have liked to use their knowledge to help. They came in thinking this was a secret society that is using this kind of power to help. In this kind of traps our society is losing valuable citizens. The Grays are in continuous search for prospects, and these are often found in different esoteric groups, many of which are under their control.

Often the capture is via drugs. Mostly young people are taken, but they never appear again under their real name as they get a whole new set of documents. If they contact their families or unwanted persons, something explodes in their brain. Sometime the abducted persons are reported as dead so they can work 100% for their masters.

The base contains and/or consists of: 15 ETs, 25 Hybrids as menial workers, 48 Homo Sapiens 48, 5 IACs for special missions and to deliver their trainees as professionals, and some usual implant machines.

Video Projectors Training areas are different places. Some go to another Base and transmit from there to achieve certainty of results.

Very few, even ETs can perceive and transmit what these trainees can!

The location of this base is here: Sierra Madre Oriental Northern part of the State Area between Xicotepec de Juarez and Filomeno Mata

The function or purpose of this base includes: Communication System. Checking satellites, radio systems etc. A Central Base for sorting out all kind of communications, ours as well as theirs. Naturally there is a strong line to USA. Coordination system for whole South American area. Many programs are made with this information.

It is a huge work to control a planets communication. They also have a sophisticated decoding system, naturally all computerized. They help the business, economical and political Bases, information being their most precious weapon.

They collect correct information and emit mostly lies or masked truth. Wrong information is a big reason for planetary confusion. They keep us not knowing the main things we should know to function properly as a civilization.

Books are being checked, school materials in particular, but this specific job is not part of this Base. To send out lots of miss-information one has to have the correct information! Specialized in South American misinformation, aimed at making it impossible to find out what they are doing as there is so much confusion in each country. As they keep us all looking at pure confusion, no one can do anything about it!

As you see, communication is their most powerful weapon. WE ALL KNOW THAT SOMETHING IS WRONG, BUT WE DO NOT KNOW WHERE TO FIND IT.

The base contains and/or consists of: 400 ETs, 87 Hybrids, 100 Homo Sapiens needed for interpretations and for finding the right way to send the disinformation (has to have something to do with the people that receive it). Screens and computers, very refined ones to trace what they want. No IACs of their own.

TLAXCALA The location of this base is here: Area Zitlaltepec on the border with Puebla -

The function or purpose of this base includes: Genetic Experiments. As usual, huge suffering, experiments with diseases, also to see how certain food affect bodies. They can easily get people from the nearby cities. In Mexico people often disappear without anyone even looking for them.

Also experiments with sex. The Grays are very interested in recovering this ability, reason for many of their experiments. People trained to abduct people on the streets, taken into a car to a deserted area and picked up by their ships.

The way these subjects are treated is inhuman! Interested in young women for procreation. Many die under tests. Treatment similar to other genetic Bases, and as in all of them when a body dies, the spirit is trapped and used for their purposes, but this is not done in this Base.

Many doctors in this place, also their own, as they train on these bodies. Exposure on the sun to check the effect of radiation. Not even the Grays want too much of it! But at least, they know how to control it. They can cause radiation death without using an atom bomb. A way to get rid of unwanted population without drawing attention on themselves.

The base contains and/or consists of: 55 ETs, 150 Hybrids, 80 Homo Sapiens as staff, 525 Captured Homo Sapiens, mostly young people. And a place for 700 persons, plus 10 IACs. Oh I forgot, 7,690 fetuses in progress, and counting.

OAXACA The location of this base is here: South of the State North of Puerto Angel Area San Augustin Loxicha -

The function or purpose of this base includes: Experiments with Indigenous. Studying the different races. Testing intelligence. Their interest is in the most intelligent ones. Trying to figure out which genetic combination gives the best result. Producing a "new" human race!

These tests are done in different places on the planet. Really a scientific research, similar to research with cows. Cultural backgrounds are also studied. A Big Human Laboratory. Looks like a very peaceful Base, nevertheless the purpose behind it is destruction of what is NOT needed by them.

The equivalent of TOTAL Population Control. There is suffering here too, as people, if they come back home are never the same, not really themselves anymore and during tests if some die no one cares. Rather similar to an animal laboratory. NO government is looking for these missing citizens! Also tampering with DNA.

Which food makes the most fit bodies..? They want healthy bodies for their subjects. Food in form of pills is also tested. They get quite some "super bodies". This is naturally also run on computer programs.

Mental tests are also made in how they can achieve the most obedient people. Their society is non violent because it is totally subdued mentally. Through thorough programs, very few are running the whole society, much worse than Mao did on China.

The base contains and/or consists of: ETs 400 Hybrids, they produce their own and even send them to other Bases, 300 Homo Sapiens as staff. A place for 1,000 prisoners they work with. Lots of doctors as Homo Sapiens. Medicine is also tested. And 25 IACs. Lots of supplies are needed. These are picked up in deserted areas where they are brought by different means, which also include our planes.

We are supplying most of their needs, and some people are making big business this way!

There are quite a few of us here on earth that KNOW about the existence of the Grays, but keep it as a secret for own advantage, more than because of fear. We are really permitting them to be here! So we will get what we deserve.

Greed can destroy it all. the ones who work for them will be the first ones to be destroyed when they come to power. As you can see, no one is winning with this interchange because it is all done in a hidden way.

The location of this base is here: East of the Capital of the State, area Tlahuitoltepec.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Patrolling the Caribbean area and gathering information about Central American States and Guerrilla and government movements in order to know when and where to interfere.

The base contains and/or consists of: Sophisticated communication system. Communicating with Bases in USA, via satellites over the Caribbean.

Satellite communication is VERY convenient for them, having an easy access to all communications such as TV, Internet, computers, radio, Phones, etc. Our "advanced" communication technology is easily controlled by them.

The ones with a superior technology, naturally win! As their IACs can stand still or move along any object, they can do whatever they want with the satellites. Logically, they can also do whatever they want with our planes!

The ONLY thing which makes them superior to us is their advanced technology, and is the reason for so few playing "cat and mouse" with so many as we ARE !

The resources of this base include: 150 ETs, 230 Hybrids, 180 Homo Sapiens trained in Latin American politics, 25 IACs

The location of this base is here: North from the capital of the State Sierra Juarez Area Chiquihuitlan

The function or purpose of this base includes: Military Base. Terrorism and guerrilla warfare. For example the Chiapas movement "Zapatistas" is getting their support. Guerrilla and sabotage training, naturally also for Guatemala and the rest of Central America. Sandinistas and all these groups that continue for years receive weapons and leader support as well as basic economic needs. Hard training, also in leadership.

Bodies are from each country, but often the beings running these bodies are very experienced in clandestine and anti-government warfare. This way we have unstable countries all over the planet. This organization has a similar pattern everywhere. Possibly also on other planets.

This is so well planned that one can assume that micro cosmos (our planet) and macro cosmos, the rest of the universe, have a hidden control mechanism which is not done solely with material power, but includes as an important part manipulation of spirits.

They work on the basis that time is not important as the being himself is immortal. Only that in the immortality this is a bad and sad game for all of us, the grays included. It can't be too enjoyable to be living and dying in these Bases! And on top of everything so far from home, Andromeda.

The base contains and/or consists of: ETs 250 Hybrids 300 Here the bright hybrids are used. Homo Sapiens comes and goes. They train in groups that will later work together. When one group is sent off, a new group is coming. This goes smoothly as their planning is excellent. Space for 40 people at a time.

As usual, these people will carry a monitor, mostly unknown to them. They also need conventional weapons, appropriate clothing for any mission and effective communication devices. IACs 15 - Devices to shoot rays on the affected areas. These make people feel even more miserable. This misery is needed in order to enable them to "come" and bring to us LAW & ORDER!

This is basically their MASTER PLAN.

The location of this base is here: South of the State Sierra de Miahuatlan Area South of Magdalena Tequisistlan (near the Pacific Coast).

The function or purpose of this base includes: Medical Training For Other Bases. Give humans some credit in all actuality we are superior being to the Aliens. We are younger than them therefore we are the new model. They are not able to take human form in any way. They can clone humans but so can we so it's no revelation. They are hermaphrodites in effect. At a certain age they just get pregnant it's just a part of aging to them. They have babies in a way similar to human women and most of them have two offspring. They don't have sex however they force humans to perform such acts for observation.

I don't know if there are nuclear tunneling machines secretly making permanent bases and tunnels on the Moon. But NASA plans certainly give cause to wonder.

Los Alamos National Laboratory and from Texas A&M University (under contract to NASA) calls for using a fission powered, nuclear subselene to provide the heat to melt rock and form a self-supporting, glass-lined tunnel suitable for Maglev or other high-speed transport modes. The report recommends burrowing beneath the surface because of the harsh lunar environment. (This would apply to Mars as well. It further mentions that the tunnels would need to be hundreds, or thousands of kilometers long. The actual subselenes would be automatic devices, remotely operated. Los Alamos estimated each subselene could be built for about $50 million and transported to the Moon for anywhere from $155 million to $2,323 million. The price tag may seem exorbitantly high, but rest assured that there is easily that much, and more, available in the military's black budget for covert projects.

The Texas A&M Lunar Tunneler would employ a mechanical head to shear its way through the lunar material while creating a rigid ceramic-like lining. Essentially, this kind of machine would be a hybrid, mechanical TBM (Tunnel Boring Machine) that incorporates elements of the nuclear powered subselene. Although the machine would be nuclear powered it would have a mechanical cutter head that would bore through the lunar subsurface. Just behind the cutter head would be a heating section that would melt a layer of lunar material within the excavated tunnel to a depth of only a few inches. This molten material could then be cooled to form a rigid ceramic material suitable for lining the interior of the tunnel.

The Texas A&M designers considered a couple of different muck disposal schemes. The two variants of the first called for the muck to be transferred vertically to the surface and either dumped or "sprayed" into a tailings pile. The second concept called for the use of special, tunnel dump trucks that would carry the muck out of the tunnel and dump it on the lunar surface. The designers recommend use of a SP-100 fission reactor for power, using liquid lithium heat pipes of the sort developed by the Los Alamos National Laboratory for the nuclear subterrene.

Texas A&M released also a lithium cooled nuclear reactor as the power source for a lunar tunneler. In the second tunneler design, there are no mechanical tunneling components.

Instead, the cone-shaped, nuclear powered tunneler melts its way through the subsurface like a subterrene. Some of the melted rock and soil is plastered against the tunnel walls to form a glass-like ceramic tunnel lining. The rest of the melted muck (called regolith) is passed out of the back of the tunneler and then carried to the surface for the disposal by the dump trucks that follow the tunneler through the tunnel.

The Moon is ideal for having bases to operate from, because its face to Earth does not rotate (which allows easy hiding) and because of its relative vicinity to planet Earth. Terrans on Earth do not have adequate space IACs (except Alpha Illuminati) to effectively reach the Moon or beyond, so they generally seem not form any threat to the bases (that are on the far left side of the Moon, whereby the way lights have been correctly seen and reported by various observers in the past).

Well, George, actually most of them are Terran bases, made by humans from planet Earth. So you want to know about Alien bases on the Moon.

BASE 5

The function or purpose of this base includes: Energy and mechanics

The resources of this base include: 70 Extraterrestrial engineers and 110 Hybrids

The statement of work of this base includes:

Energy is produced the way much like the free energy technology that is being suppressed on planet Earth (as you can find out more about through the Health Research link in this website)

Only highly skilled Extraterrestrials work here. Terrans are not allowed to learn about the skills and electromagnetic technology here. Work shop for repair of mechanical equipment.

BASE 4

The function or purpose of this base includes: Recreation

The resources of this base include: 30 Managing Extraterrestrials and 160 Working Hybrids

The statement of work of this base includes:

It seems that our space fellows, despite of their slavery-like lifestyle, have the chance to enjoy some recreation (I do not know about their sex life) in several spaces.

Different activities can be done, such as sports (there is even a swimming-pool) and movies, sitting and sleeping. Various bases connect through this base.

BASE 3

The function or purpose of this base includes: Spaceport

The resources of this base include: 210 Extraterrestrials and 500 Hybrids

The statement of work of this base includes:

This is like a cargo airport, but then for space IACs that come here to load or unload.

Its location is just at the edge of the visible part of the Moon, so a good view of planet Earth. Around this base, there is vegetation growing, some parts covered like a greenhouse, other parts open. Water (there is plenty of it) is derived from sources 1500 feet under the surface of the Moon.

There is also a space for training on different missions they are supposed to execute. And for long time & distance transportation purposes, hibernation processes are applied.

BASE 2

The function or purpose of this base includes: Missions

The resources of this base include: 300 Extraterrestrials as medical and mental doctors, specialists in debrief and erasure 40 Terrans in particular as intermediates for abducted Humans, plus an additional estimated 400+ Hybrids

The statement of work of this base includes:

On this base, mental indoctrination is common practice where all possible means are applied, such as memory erasure (usually after debrief) , mind programming, threatening, drugs and medicines. All very tightly controlled. Even the Extraterrestrials going back to Andromeda galaxy are manipulated as to keep the missions secret. Human abductees usually do not even remember having been on the Moon bases because of these practices.

None of the bases on planet Earth knows about the missions. No one seems to have the whole picture, and everybody seems to be a prisoner of some sort.

BASE 1

The function or purpose of this base includes: Co-ordination

The resources of this base include: 110 Extraterrestrials and 140 Hybrids who all have had special training in Andromeda No Humans allowed

The statement of work of this base includes:

A secured and highly restricted building where special missions, situations or individuals are worked on. From here there is communication to Earth, Mars, space IACs in different locations, bases on other Planets and to Andromeda.

Not all operations are aimed at planet Earth. As things have to be coordinated, this is a very important hub.

Possibly this is an area where quite a variety of beings from other planets are together.

Impossible for a Human to either penetrate or leave this place without severely risking his or her life. (Even Extraterrestrials and Hybrids who are working here are killed when they make mistakes)

The tunnel system at planet Earth has some bearing though. Over the years I have heard rumors that there is a tunnel society made up of some kind of beings however no-one I know knows anything about that. So it's probably false. There are some humans that live a surprisingly long time due to certain genetic engineering done on them by the Aliens. Most of these people are employed by the ETs as spies, murderers, MIB, etc. All I will say is that the ET home planet is not in our solar system. Crop circles are all made by humans. It is most likely these are made with maser equipped satellites by some tech geeks.

I never said the Aliens invaded us. They have only observed and used us for rituals. The seeing of the craft has always happened however it was usually dismissed by the "other" government which is older than you may think. Before that they were probably called dragons or griffins, something like that. I'm really not sure why else. The reason there are different races here on earth I believe is pure evolution nothing more. We have never found anything to contradict that fact.

AIDS and Ebola are just evolutionary diseases that came out of the jungles of Africa. You think AIDS has been engineered by the Red Cross. Well, I have no data on that one, so I can neither deny nor confirm.

However it is widely believed by both "the culture" and the Aliens that leprosy and rubella were brought here long ago by the Aliens and in turn a massive plague of measles killed a very large portion of their population at around the year 650 AD. They rarely share any advances they make in this field however they do learn a lot from our scientists as far as bio-medicine is concerned. The other government has indeed used biological disasters to try and yield more power within this world however they have met with mixed results.

The black death was a virus not created by the Others however they were responsible for the spreading of it. That was when the "other" government was located primarily within the Vatican and had hopes of controlling at least Europe. It wasn't until this century that they have begun creating viruses one being a flesh eating bacteria. there is one that they have created that kills thousands of people daily but is yet to be recognized. It's still in the testing phase and it looks as it won't stand up once it is diagnosed.

The goal however of the "other" government is not to eradicate peoples of this Earth in any way. It is a very vain group who believes strongly that it is on the verge of controlling it all. Mutilations as described in magazines are done by human beings. ETs do in fact perform mutilations on human beings and cattle and every organism that exists on this planet but they don't just dump them back when they are done. The humans they use in their experiments are all provided by "the culture" from which I belong. They are usually criminals, idiots, unstable individuals, or vagrants. All the individuals who claim to be taken as an "abduction" are all victims of religious rituals and the small metal objects are tokens of the ritual; they are not tracking or monitoring devices.

What is exchanged between the "other" government is just what I said the other government exchanges human beings mainly for precious metals and diamonds which come from the Aliens home. They trade other things however these are the main things traded. The "other" government has huge stockpiles of gold, silver, diamonds, etc although to release them onto the market would crash the world's economy in an instant.

By allowing it to trickle out this gives them an unlimited war-chest which they have been building since just after the first world war. Other things that are traded is mostly just information about governments and things they have seen in space which is little to nothing.

They have never explained what the use is of their MIB and because MIB would rather die than talk the only humans who know the function of the MIB are the MIB themselves.

However we know they are extremely efficient as far as military operations are concerned and are all extremely intelligent. We can travel very easily to the Moon with the craft but we never have the IACs are unable to carry any sort of weapons because of the tachyon shell. They are really quite harmless; most are very small so they can't even carry many ETs at once. they are believed to have just been transports that held just enough room for the amount that were sent to the planet on which they now reside. They believe they were exiled from somewhere else although there is no real evidence to support this. They also believe that somewhere out there is a civilization with a highly advanced society.

We refer to it here as "Deep Atlantis" we are in agreement that once they are found many things will be answered for both of us. The ETs are deeply traditional and don't seem to want to vary from the way they practice their faith. They have very strong ties to our Catholic church here on earth and indeed every pope for a hundred years has known of the existence of ETs. No Jesus was indeed real as it is widely held by both them and us. I'm not a Christian but I don't doubt his existence either. Yes it may someday be possible for us all to meet the ETs but I'm not really clear on this fact. Although maybe they might use you for one of their rituals someday.

The USA holds indeed quite a few secret underground bases, as you correctly indicated in your latest message. About 35 to mention. Here are some of them. If you speak of it in public, please be aware that your life will not be safe. You have been warned, my friend.

The location of this base is here: Division Peak near Black Rock Desert.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To manage California. Worlds Cult Center. Cult training Center. The cult the person likes gets implanted and trained.

They think they have been on another planet and got a Deity's vision .

They will have no money problems.

Main center for the planet. All data are computerized, and they will be able to teach only the permitted things. All had contact with a "Supreme Being". This is what people in each cult would like to reach.

Spiritual miss information.

Strong machines to influence groups. Projecting what people "see".

The base contains and/or consists of: 40 ETs, 96 Homo Sapiens, 50 Hybrids, 4 IACs

The location of this base is here: Ruby Mountains between Sherman Mt. and Jiggs

The function or purpose of this base includes: Work with salt crystals to concentrate radiation, also to increase the power of the waves they are sending to get people "crazy". These waves are put in the air and they re-stimulate the negative mind which we all have. When in the air, even the sun feels stronger.

This is been thrown with space ships.

The base contains and/or consists of: 10 ETs, 20 Homo Sapiens Scientists, 56 Hybrids, 10 IACs

FLORIDA The location of this base is here: Base under water between Jacksonville and Palatka, in the ocean.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To gather the Salt for the Crystals, which are then used to make people afraid.

The base contains and/or consists of: 5 ETs, 10 Homo Sapiens, 61 Hybrids IACs special for use under water 3 plus one broken.

This is considered slave work. Under its production some deadly smoke emanates. Using the mishaps of their genetic experiments.

COLORADO The location of this base is here: Gore Range near lake, west from Denver.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Planets "Library" and Central Data Bank. Registers population (through governments on planet). Any threats to their work is checked, and if true, programs are issued to send mental pressures, diseases, etc. It is basically the Planets "Secret Service"!

The information gets processed in this place, and the different threats are handled after the instructions given by them.

Compose of: 25 ETs, 40 Homo Sapiens, 25 Hybrids, 16 IACs

The location of this base is here: Warden Valley West from Fort Collins.

Works tightly with Colorado Base and with their Boss in Montana.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To make people sick, stressed, even to the point that they commit suicide. Their information comes from Gore Range, they execute and check if orders are accomplished.

They use certain mental gadgets, which, when finished with their work are retrieved back to base.

They send people to handle "danger" areas. ET "police". Total hidden population control.

Give "special" treatments to make "threat" work for them such as Hypnosis, change of the beings running VIPs bodies etc. Full access to any weapon needed if not available in base.

The base contains and/or consists of: 30 ETs, 50 Homo Sapiens, 35 Hybrids, 3 Special IACs for sending waves on specific place, and 40 operating thetan type of spirits trained to take over another person's body, and come back when mission is accomplished. No they're not from Scientology. There's better stuff around.

OKLAHOMA The location of this base is here: Lake Cherokees.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Blood Bank, mainly from animals, but also from people. With this they are preparing ETs food supply. Genetic experiments with children, sex. Using young women as incubators. Also doing animal tests.

The base contains and/or consists of: 68 ETs, 7 Homo Sapiens Scientists, 5 Hybrids

People for experiments 550 Animals to experiment with 155,783.

The location of this base is here: Between Danway and Delaware.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Brain implants, Experimental machinery.

Bodies are kept in coma, some refrigerated. Great human suffering. Implant people to make them tell the stories they wish known.

The base contains and/or consists of: 16 ETs, 16 Homo Sapiens, 15 Hybrids, 5 IACs, 100 Patients

OREGON Information received on 18/1/95.

The location of this base is here: The Dalles, Mt Hood.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To infiltrate areas and provoke conflicts. Investigation of troop movements the whole planet.

Provoking all sides with intrigues, to make them fight endlessly. Intelligence service with computerized data.

Language Center. A study place to make programs for infiltration.

Check on all known leaders (opinion leaders). Here they study their life to be able to handle them, and if necessary to cause them a "natural" death. They make programs for the future of the countries. Manipulation of the different crisis on the planet.

The base contains and/or consists of: 78 ETs, 9 Homo Sapiens, 10 IACs

WASHINGTON The location of this base is here: Barron, between Mt. Logan and Jack Mountain.

The function or purpose of this base includes: A Study Center to create a world under their control (Grays From ANDROMEDA).

Models for future cities.

Training leaders to take over the different governments. Each studying the country he will take over. Make models for future cities. Hybrids are trained to be "nice". The best products from the other bases come here.

They want a society with no revolts totally robotic, peacefulness all over the place. They like nice and orderly environment. Low class people and bums are not needed. They want well trained and disciplined people.

Plants, forests, the sea, can regenerate fast under their control, with their own microorganisms. Only thing they fear are earthquakes in their zones, as they have no weapons against this.

The base contains and/or consists of: 35 ETs, 5 Homo Sapiens, 120 Hybrids, 5 IACs

The location of this base is here: Colville, Calispel Peak.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To train beings to make war, die and come back.

Beings are trained to duplicate a specific person. Done under hypnosis. These beings are used as revolutionaries. When sent out they stay in telepathic communication with "base".

Their job is:

- 1) Take over a body.
- 2) body dies, back to base to be sent anew.

This way quarrels continue endlessly.

The base contains and/or consists of: 80 ETs, 10 Homo Sapiens, 20 Hybrids, 8 IACs

INDIANA The location of this base is here: Fort Wayne, area Churubusco.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Telecommunication.

Satellite check and its programs. Main control on data about ETs, Authorization Center for programs. Public Relation, programs of how to get known. Public reactions tests. Cartoon ideas approved.

Need populated areas to test reactions. Have power to cut any transmission via Satellite. World Communication control. Phone Communications can be traced via computers, main interest being data about them.

The base contains and/or consists of: 16 ETs, 5 Homo Sapiens, 12 Hybrids, 4 IACs

The location of this base is here: Terre Haute, area Rockville Greencastle.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Fauna and Plant life experiments. Need fertile areas. They want to have the planet as they like it. One way to be accepted is improving Ecology. "Helping" farmers. Efficient Public Relation! Petroleum will not be used as main energy source. They can change climates, but can't control earthquakes.

Compose of: 17 ETs, 6 Homo Sapiens Scientists, 25 Hybrids

IACs 9 Animals 50,000. Seeds from this planet 7,000 different sorts Seeds from other planets 5,551 Making experiments to mix them.

NEW MEXICO Information received on 21/1/95.

The location of this base is here: Las Vegas area. Baldy Pk. Cowles.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To drive the world crazy.

In different ways, direct attention on sex, even shooting these picture in the air. Also pictures projection of people should be seeing via satellites. Center for different mental machines specially. Mind experiments. Hard to approach this area even mentally. Using and manipulating negative beings.

Mind suppression.

The base contains and/or consists of: 26 ETs, 3 Homo Sapiens, 67 Hybrids, 7 IACs

The location of this base is here: Gallinas Mt.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Execution of Las Vegas plans. Sending things out "to drive the world crazy"

Homo Sapiens trained for purpose from Las Vegas base.

A big Center.

The base contains and/or consists of: 62 ETs, 47 Homo Sapiens, no Hybrids nor ships. Using those from other bases. Want the least possible attention on this area.

The location of this base is here: Grants area Paguate Mt. Taylor -

The function or purpose of this base includes: Important military attack zone. Training military strategy and the use of weapons as well as ships.

The base contains and/or consists of: 595 ETs, 48 Homo Sapiens, 500 Hybrids, 6 Troop transporting IACs, 52 IACs of regular size

The location of this base is here: Tajique Laguna del Perro area.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Procreation of Hybrids. Training of children. School area.

The base contains and/or consists of: 36 ETs, 15 Homo Sapiens, 630 Hybrids, 6 IACs

ALABAMA The location of this base is here: New Market "Cumberland Plateau".

The function or purpose of this base includes: Animal and Human Experiments. They take in animals from this planet and from others, also fishes. They want their own fauna.

LOTS OF CHILDREN!

We are considered their animals too. They breed human and animal bodies.

The base contains and/or consists of: 66 ETs, 7,200 Animals, 250 Homo Sapiens Children and Grownups, 6 IACs

The location of this base is here: L M Smith Reservoir.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To train them to walk on Earth. Let ETs get accustomed to this place. Walk at night. Frighten population. Mix with population, and make experiments to see how they are accepted.

The base contains and/or consists of: 47 ETs, 92 Hybrids, 6 IACs

The location of this base is here: Falkville.

The function or purpose of this base includes: A Scientific Center.

Water experiments. They want a clean planet. Pollution tests. Planning of how to make the environment as THEY want it, after they take over. Ecological planning. Programs to see how many Homo Sapiens are needed for THEIR Civilization. Pollution to kill what is not desired.

The base contains and/or consists of: 17 ETs, 2 Homo Sapiens, 2 Hybrids

IOWA Information received on 25/1/95.

The location of this base is here: Mt. Pleasant, area New Landon Wapello.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Scientific Center. Tests of how much Homo Sapiens can take, to take only the most able survive. Tests for diseases & bacteria. Also virus and the spread of cancer (through water).

They wish to kill people, but not plants. They try to produce an epidemic catastrophe, but they must also know how to stop it! This is important to be able to have the exact amount of people as they need.

The base contains and/or consists of: 42 ETs, 66 Homo Sapiens, 22 Hybrids 22, 5 IACs

MASSACHUSETTS The location of this base is here: Mt. Everet.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Government advisers. Heads of States come here for instructions. Friendly environment. Make agreements about the "prosperity" of the countries. For their "help" they are paid in gold and diamonds. Paper money is useless and worthless. It is issued just to keep us busy. Infiltration into the heavy industries. They need some missing supplies. They do have supplies problems.

The base contains and/or consists of: 40 ETs, 60 Homo Sapiens stable there to make guests feel at home, 25 Hybrids, but no IACs of their own.

MAINE Information received on 25/1/95.

The location of this base is here: Not far from the Canadian border. Area near Eagle Lake.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Landing field for big ships. Investigation into Canada and running Canada. Helping New York base to control population. Training criminals to infiltrate society. Check on drug cartel lines. Sex experiments under drug euphoria.

ETs cemetery. Military Police for ETs. Highest posts are given from here.

Emissaries land here to check situation on the planet. Scenario preparations for the coming of a "Helper" to this planet. To enforce this "Big Helper", there are frozen bodies waiting for the takeover action. Anyone approaching gets pulverized.

The base contains and/or consists of: 60 ETs, 465 Frozen ETs (these are hidden from Homo Sapiens), 40 Hybrids, 182 IACs

NORTH DAKOTA Information received on 15/1/95.

The location of this base is here: Area Bismark Aberdeen Napoleon -

The function or purpose of this base includes: Main Base as Boss lives here. Planning for takeover, preparing things using huge maps of the planet. Experiment and training area. Center for making weather changes. Implanting their people in order to have robotic obedience.

Tight union with U.S.A.. government.

The base contains and/or consists of: ETs 750 5,000 hybrids trained in take over technology. There are no Homo Sapiens nor ships!

MICHIGAN The location of this base is here: Lake Michigan, Near Big Sable pt. Under water base.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Unknown to us, weapon storage. We have no idea of what kind of weapons they have. Machine, and flying tests. Work directly under Boss's orders. They have problems with spare parts!

There are tunnels to communicate with others.

The base contains and/or consists of: 75 ETs, 15 Homo Sapiens, 30 Hybrids, 17 IACs

MONTANA The location of this base is here: Livingstone area.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Repairing of their ships.

The base contains and/or consists of: 85 ETs, 22 Homo Sapiens, 7 IACs

The location of this base is here: Piney Buttes.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Genetic Experiments. There is great suffering for all beings.

The base contains and/or consists of: 110 ETs, 15 Homo Sapiens, 700 Hybrids, 10,000 Animals, 5 IACs

UTAH The location of this base is here: On the Northern part of the State, area Noamy Pk., Logan City near Garden City.

The function or purpose of this base includes: GENETIC EXPERIMENTS.

"Incubator" area with 14,876 bodies in progress.

The base contains and/or consists of: 150 ETs, 71 Hybrids, 666 Animals, 10

ARIZONA The location of this base is here: Southern part of the State. Baldy Pk.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Political manipulation area for Canada USA Mexico -

Highly computerized, all very confidential. Coordinator of American Politics. There is such a Base on each Continent, but this one is the most important one. They have the programs and the machinery to "shoot" at politicians. Highly specialized in taking over global actions.

The base contains and/or consists of: 60 ETs, 20 Hybrids, 200 Homo Sapiens taken for data who have knowledge of the structure of the different societies, 7 IACs

The location of this base is here: Kendrick Pk., Area Flagstaff Red Lake.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Base for radiating devices, much of it comes from Andromeda, as there are very sophisticated ways of manipulating people and population. With these things they manipulate big cities as they radiate their stuff from their ships. This is also sent to war areas, as well to very populated places. With this they can keep people in apathy and desperation.

This base has a camouflage of being a Repair Base.

WISCONSIN

The location of this base is here: Fond du Lac.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To keep in communication with Lake Michigan base This is done with a tunnel.

Over ground this base works as an observatory for weather changes. They make tests with their lethal weapons here, as if this would be the real base where they keep them. A camouflage base for Homo Sapiens to know about. It is shown to different world governments.

Exchanges are then made. To get their new technology, the ETs get money to build their bases, and get a quota of how many people can disappear without any government interference. This is the way how many new lethal weapons have appeared on this planet! Also other "extraordinary things", only, they give us something to keeps the government people happy, and take great care not to give anything that could be used against them. Meanwhile we keep happily killing each other with this new "inventions".

The base contains and/or consists of: 35 ETs, 10 Homo Sapiens, 32 Hybrids, 6 IACs-

The location of this base is here: Elkhorn Willam Bay.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To be able to destroy cities like New York fast. This is the way to get rid of surplus population. To do this they need the OK from Boss in Andromeda Galaxy. Basically all major orders come from that place. Test area for flights at certain distances.

As their plans are not allowed by any agreements, when they attack, they must act fast. The ETs are not at ease here, and are afraid to stay trapped in their positions. Homo Sapiens main disadvantage is his lack of knowledge about the whole situation!

They do not need our big cities! They need disasters happening around the planet to keep attention off their work.

The base contains and/or consists of: 70 ETs, 28 Homo Sapiens as scientists, 70 Hybrids

The location of this base is here: Center City Area Turtle Lake.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Center of their Organization. Secretariat for the Boss area. Their "Heart". As the Boss is hidden, his orders are executed from here. Computerized Center of Communication to the bases on the planet. From here coordinations are made between the different bases on the planet.

Also their Justice Center. This is a very strict Organization, but all robotized, which also is their weakness! If something gets out of order they get easily confused. A strictly military Organization. This base is their "nucleus". Any order coming from here has precedence on any other bases command.

If this place got destroyed there would be great confusion among all bases!

The base contains and/or consists of: 120 ETs, 5 IACs

They do not want to draw attention on this area. It is a relatively small base.

NEBRASKA The location of this base is here: North Platte Seneca and Ringgold.

The function or purpose of this base includes: To plan and execute the Programs. For this purpose there are 2 bases in this place, and they are connected by a tunnel. Here they have the sight of all what is occurring on the planet, such as wars, population movements, disasters, etc. This is the place for meetings on a high level such as Bank loans meetings from IMF, and other important institutions.

The base contains and/or consists of: ETs 15 IACs 5, specially equipped for VIPs and as all is made through computers, these are part of this place too.

KENTUCKY & VIRGINIA UNDERGROUND CITY

The location of this base is here: Evarts Harlan Cumberland nets. East Point Dewey Reservoir. Sandy Hook West Liberty. Denton (entrance).

The function or purpose of this base includes: Atomic War shelter. Military reservoir. Government Management. Secret Service. Andromeda Communicator. Central government for this planet.

Equipped with luxurious hotel rooms. Totally organized to "protect" high politicians. "Safety" place in case of an Atomic War. But this is really a LIE, just to get it built.

They do not want any of these people whom they are trying to "save", they plan to kill them or implant them and just use them for their purposes.

NOTHING of what they say can be trusted. They are masters in manipulating opponents.

The base contains and/or consists of: 650 ETs, 190 Homo Sapiens, 3,486 Hybrids, 56 IACs

NEW YORK The location of this base is here: North of the State.

Adirondack Mountains Long Lake area. Piseco.

The function or purpose of this base includes: This are really 2 bases. A military one and one to check all airline traffic, as well as control New York population. Send waves on populated areas. Have total check on what is going on there. Military strategy is also developed here. Military equipment such as clothing, guns, radios. There is also a potent receiver that can get outside communications. (From outside this planet). Their gold is also kept here.

The base contains and/or consists of: 150 ETs, 400 Hybrids, 11 Military IACs

MONTANA

The location of this base is here: Livingstone area, direction Big Timber South West from Big Timber.

The function or purpose of this base includes: PLACE WHERE THE BOSS OF THE PLANET LIVES.

Base disguised as an IAC Repair Base. His place is 89 meters under earth and protected against any bombing. Many communication devices are installed in the IACs for "repair". The most important communication is for outside this planet. They are the only ones to know about incoming Space IACs , as well as in which direction this planet should go.

Those analyzing from outside have a clearer view about the whole planet. NO orders go to bases from here except to their Center Base in Wisconsin, area Center City Turtle Lake. So, this is the heart of the Grays Organization on this planet, and its main artery is in Wisconsin.

What we should do is KNOW about this organizational system. With this knowledge MUCH of their power would vanish. In other words, if we heavily nuke Turtle Lake and Wisconsin areas, it will be the end of misery enforced upon mankind by the Aliens.

The base contains and/or consists of: 75 ETs, 28 Hybrids as servants

There are misleading tunnels around this Base, as it is the most secret part of their Organization. Entrance from another direction than the Repair Base.

All factions are closing ranks and it seems like we are on the verge of war but not the kind of war we usually think of. By the way the Aliens are once again suffering from chicken pox and are starting to fear coming here. In the last few months [2001] their trips have been made only for religious purposes.

As for whether the Aliens are currently trying to cross human and Alien DNA, they are not trying to make a half species they are in fact trying to integrate genetic information that our bodies hold into their own. They do this to make themselves a stronger species for example I have heard that at the present they are conducting skin cell mitosis experiments in order to make their thin weak bond skin cells more tough like our own.

About the flight of the Blue Water craft it is true that humans are superior pilots in that human hand-eye coordination is much more advanced than the ETs also the ability to communicate verbally instead of having to rely on some olfactory allows humans to fly in a more organized manner with better results.

I'm not sure exactly what government you are talking about but no wide known government has any Aliens working for it. The factions such as the one that employs me do have minute amounts of ET/Terran interaction. I do believe, however, that I know to whom you are referring and that would be the entity group we call the Alpha Illuminati.

They are the most powerful and most influential of all the factions and they are heavy into the human for precious materials trade. I do share your fears of what may be on the horizon as far as virus outbreaks and disease go. The games the scientists are beginning to play is very frightening to me. Unfortunately I don't have much time but I can address your questions about the ET evolution and also the ET cloning by humans pretty briefly.

There are no other species of animalia on their planet; they have no rivals, there is no competition therefore yielding very little evolutionary changes and also allowing for many weaknesses as opposed to humans who had to compete for tens of thousands of years. The answer to your cloning question is simple. There is no benefit to cloning the ETs, human nature makes men do things out of curiosity. Basically they clone them because they can.

Blue Book, I have no knowledge of where their planet is it's somewhere out there I guess. There are those who know however. They communicate with us by typing. They know all of our languages and have equipment that acts as a keyboard to allow them to talk to us.

They use no kind of keyboard to voice translators as I believe they feel it is not to their liking to have a human voice. We speak back to them in our language and they have those among them that can interpret. We will never be able to understand their language in the way they do ours because of the way they use partial olfactory communication meaning smell. It is a consensus between us and them that they are the only animalia on their planet due to the fact that they have not evolved on that planet but on some other planet.

This is what they search for out their; home. Man is brilliant thinker and problem solver if his environment is not so much about survival and warring then man begins to discover great things. When you ask yourself why man has only begun creating great things in the past two hundred years you must look to the past. How long did it take man to discover physics and after that how quick has he moved.

Project Blue Book was an American government investigation into the existence of extraterrestrial life. The project was basically a white wash of what the government already had known. The final report by the project gave no indications that Aliens from outer space existed even though the government of the United States had known of their existence for at least 30 years.

There are records of all meetings between the ET emissaries and US, British, Russian, and Japanese governments. The faction in which I am associated also keeps documented records of their meetings with the Emissaries and also the Alpha Illuminati has kept extensive records of their interaction with them dating back to around 400 of the common era. Here's something I think you might find interesting. Around this time [2001] is one of their religious holidays which is roughly translated into the time of looking back. It is no coincidence that this coincides with the Popes trip abroad; this will take a lot of attention from the Vatican and give the ETs an easier time for their rituals they perform at ST Peters Basilica. So if you happen to be in Italy, don't forget to look up.

Regarding the Alpha Illuminati, indeed they are the premier political power in the world, in fact they are the strongest of all the known entities in the universe. They have a fleet of blue water craft that rivals that of the ETs and there is information coming in from multiple sources that they are in the process of testing the first ever human built replicas of the blue water craft.

This is very disturbing within the community as it will destroy the balance of power that has existed for the past two centuries. Everything has a balance right now. The ETs are balanced by their lack of human characteristics such as greed and courage. The smaller factions, such as the one I am a part of, are balanced by the Alpha Illuminati and each other. The Alpha Illuminati is balanced by the NATO alliance. NATO is balanced by organizations such as mine that have infested their governments.

If the Alpha Illuminati are able to create blue water craft which are able to carry weapons they will almost certainly begin an invasion of the Alien world to rob it of its resources. I have no knowledge of whether or not the Council, which is the leaders of the AI, is immortal beings or not. I can say however that I have never heard of an immortal being. I have heard though the High Regent of the council has been the same man for centuries. Whether it has been many men who have just passed on a title I am unaware but that's what I'd bet on.

Some of the titles are Alpha Osiris, Alpha Templar, and Alpha Regent. As far as the Pope goes all major political powers have sworn to protect the papacy including the ETs. Although due to the decrease in religious belief in the western world the Vatican's power is also decreasing. Some confirmed members of the AI from history: George Washington-US 1st President Jacques De Molay-Grand Master of the Templars Richard I-King of England Charlemagne-1st Holy Roman Emperor Winston Churchill-British Prime Minister Fredrick the Great of Prussia. By the way, the 33rd degree of the Free Masons is NOT at all the highest. There's roughly 20 levels more.

Regarding the dollar bill, that is indeed the all seeing eye of Osiris the same symbol used by the Illuminati however the designers of the bill only placed it there as a mimicry of the AI; in fact they thought the Illuminati was just a legend. The US dollar is only controlled by the AI in that, the amount of gold, silver, diamonds, etc... causes the world economy as a whole to fluctuate; I mean look what they did to Russia.

They do have immense economic power due to the fact that they have a truly substantial amount of precious materials stashed away. Many have tried to find this wealth but no one has been able to locate it at all. It is a wide belief that they store it on the actual ET home-world and transport it when necessary, although the US government has led many covert operations to the home planet and came up with nothing.

The AI has a tremendous amount of power in the world however they, at least for now, are in check. About Tesla coils and scalar waves I believe the only two factions that may possess this technology is the US and the China based faction known as the Ming Tientsin. I can assure you no one has the power to create earthquakes. I have heard of a US project in Alaska using a large energy grid to cause rain but even that is nothing near being used as a weapon. If they could perfect scalar waves then yes I do believe it could be used as a shield against projectile weapons.

OK well I believe I mentioned the men in black to you before, well no one is sure of who these humans are but let me tell you a little bit about what they really do. They are sent out from time to time to quiet people down about UFOs for whatever reason the Aliens have. However their true role in Alien society is that of enforcer. These are raw human beings bred for killing. They are highly intelligent, fast, strong; basically genetic engineered humans that the ET have created into superhuman after thousands of years of breeding for top human qualities.

They have a role on the ET home-world similar to that of the Janissary of the old Ottoman empire; foreign elite soldiers. Well let me tell you how they operate against rival forces such as the AI, US govt, my faction, etc... They ambush/raid bases killing everyone they come into contact with. All this is done for various strategic reasons, such as gaining information or elimination of important life. OK I know in the past I have been a little vague on some points playing down my knowledge but I feel I can trust you George so here goes.

I have seen firsthand what the MIB are capable of. They mutilate bodies, they tear heads from children, they torture with the crudest of instruments. They are no longer men but beasts and the message they send is very clear. They are to be feared.

I remember an incident in Utah about a year and a half ago where we had an infiltration group within Area-99, a super secret base. I was coming to the rendezvous site a little after 100 hrs when I noticed part of the wall had been collapsed upon the security van outside of the structure. I pulled my firearm and proceeded into the building whereupon I would find all six of my compatriots decapitated with railroad spikes through their foreheads. Their bodies were drawn and quartered and the arms and legs had been rearranged so none had their correct parts near their body. All information we had gathered over the past 6 months had been taken and the mission is still one of my factions biggest disgraces and that's why I'm positioned here now. It is incidences such as the one I have just described that allow me to know that the war is very real, that no one is safe and that we will all have to fight some day or be thrashed upon the shores of time.

Don't feel embarrassed about having nothing to give me in return because I have no intentions of asking you for anything, although I may just show up at your place someday looking for somewhere to hide out.

Know this George: almost everything has a reason in this world. Very little of life is circumstance. The HAARP project is exactly what I was referring to. I know very little about it though and in fact my faction has very little reach into Alaska as the US government has employed only its best men to head all research out there. My faction is a mole group.

We infest all others with hundreds of thousands of operatives born for this reason only. We are a race of people in a way rather than an organization. We gather information from around the world; the deepest information of all world powers. We sell information, we keep the balance of power alive. I cannot tell the name of my group and I never will. After the incident in Utah I had to be repositioned so they moved me here to California and my integration has started here within the state tax collection agency located within the most powerful state in the country's capital. My ultimate destination is the Jet Propulsion Laboratories down state. My integration will take roughly 3 yrs and it is the way we get inside highly secretive areas. About the papers you were working on I'd love to see them and would graciously give you any feedback I have about what you have compiled. Now, on your question about Europe, where you are residing right now, yes, I know of your second sighting in France. The place you indicated is indeed where that IAC has crashed. The wreckage will remain there forever. In the years that follow, vegetation will cover any trace. You better not go to that place. It's been guarded ever since. Some tourists who have been there incidentally, have disappeared.

EUROPE

NORWAY

The location of this base is about here: Finmark Area of Rastegaisa

The function or purpose of this base includes: Psychotronic and atomic research

The resources of this base include: 20 Extra terrestrials, 10 Hybrids, 1 Landing spot

The statement of work of this base includes: Atomic fission research in order to produce energy. This energy is used for generating psychotronic waves, not just for their defense against intruders. Psychotronic energy waves are used to mentally influence and even paralyze people as to discourage them from approaching.

There is also a permanent screen against telepathic approach made of these energy beams to keep telepathic and astral observers out. Physically, these beams are deadly, if one gets exposed too long.

This energy attacks the body cells which in their turn try to defend themselves. As a consequence, the cells do not have sufficient energy left to regenerate or to stay healthy, and we, Terrans, do not rest well enough. This is the main cause of mass fatigue and negative thinking, as the Aliens keep on transmitting these energy waves across the globe. (It is not unthinkable that conventional transmitters, such as mobile phone relay towers, cause similar effects

NORWAY

The location of this base is about here: Troms, North of Ovre Dividal Nasjonal Park, on the mountain border with Sweden, between rivers Lainbalven and Korkamaalven

The function or purpose of this base includes: Training of Aliens in Terran affairs.

The resources of this base include: 150 Extra terrestrials, 400 Hybrids, 5 Small crafts

The statement of work of this base includes: Production of new bosses to replace the old ones where needed. These Aliens are highly intelligent and have been trained in Andromeda in keeping a planet under control by controlling the leaders.

They have data about every political leader. If needed, black mail is used to make the leaders obey orders from the Alien organization.

Educational programs are sent out and enforced in order to keep bright people from being bright and to make people dumb so that they can be manipulated easily.

NORWAY

The location of this base is about here: Nordland, on the border to Sweden Area Ballangen and Storsteinsfjellet

The function or purpose of this base includes: Europe's Abduction Center.

The resources of this base include: 100 Extra terrestrials, 120 Hybrids, 70 Terrans, 10 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Purpose is not to have Terrans against the Aliens, so an important part of their indoctrination is that the Aliens have come in peace.

People which they bring here are young, with a good personal and educational presence. This is aimed at a fairly educated part of the society.

Most Terrans are already under the manipulation of the communication media, which includes the press, news, TV, internet, books, and so forth. To confuse Terrans has high priority.

This base is highly aesthetic, so the abductees feel at ease and safe.

Religions of many kinds are indoctrinated here. The Terrans at the base, all spiritual leaders, are very well treated and are allowed to stay in communication with their most important followers through sophisticated communication media. People sent back are very convinced about their mission. The Aliens know about the power of the spiritual and want to have the most able people under their control.

FINLAND

The location of this base is about here: Utsjoki, at the Border to Norway near Finmark base.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Political science.

The resources of this base include: 40 extra terrestrials, 300 Hybrids, 150 Terrans, 500 Trainees and prototypes, and 20 Heavy crafts

The statement of work of this base includes: This base has been going on for more than 50 years in order to prepare for and gain total control over planet Earth. As our civilization seems in rapid decay, chaos and misery, it is a sign that the Aliens are achieving their goals. After all, Terrans have come to believe that all those troubles around is just a way of life.

Abducted young women are used to produce children who are indoctrinated, educated, genetically modified and implanted, in order to take top positions later on.

SWEDEN

The location of this base is about here: Norbottens Laen West from Kiruna Area Kebnekaise and Rensjoen

The function or purpose of this base includes: Political base.

The resources of this base include: 45 Extra terrestrials, 90 Hybrids, 85 Terrans, 10 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Controlling Northern Europe which includes Scandinavia, Germany, Poland, Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia and the Stan nations, keeping Russia in misery.

In the political game they try to make things difficult for Europe to make them loose strength, as to keep the US superior Situations are created so that Europe often "has to" ask the Americans for help.

Main purpose is to know what is happening politically and economically, interfere as much as they can, to be able to control their currencies and help the USA prosper.

Politicians can also be bought here, but in a more subtle way. They have to be more careful not to be too competent and decent people as top leaders. Any real competent person will be attacked with slander in order to lose prestige, with loss of popularity or power as a result, or serious loss of health. The purpose behind this is to convince people that the best thing to do is as little as possible, just going with the herd.

SWEDEN

The location of this base is about here: Norbottens Laen Abisko National Park 30 miles from the border to Norway

The function or purpose of this base includes: Abduction junction and relay station.

The resources of this base include: 175 Extra terrestrials, 300 Hybrids, 25 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Abductions done by Hybrids who make use of IAC crafts that transmit psychotronic waves to keep us down without us knowing the cause.

In these mountains much training is being done for spies and infiltrators. This base is the main base over Europe, not believed by Europeans to exist.

On the political level, a European parliament is programmed as to make decisions over Europe in a way that helps the Aliens in their manipulations. Any person who sees behind this facade gets eliminated. Purpose is to find ways of causing big problems. As soon as they are about being solved, a totally different problem area gets started up. As they keep us repairing all these damages, we have neither the time nor the energy to create new and better things to make our lives prosper.

SWEDEN

The location of this base is about here: Norbottens Laen Area Kvilskjokk About 58 miles from the border to Norway

The function or purpose of this base includes: Political base.

The resources of this base include:

40 Extra terrestrials
35 Hybrids

The statement of work of this base includes: Planning and preparing speeches for political top leaders. Keeping Russia and the Eastern countries on a low survival level, as these nations are not allowed to become powerful.

During surgical intervention, as usually occurs with top leaders, at subconscious level influence is exerted, which will be of help for the Aliens plans.

Things are somehow hidden, but far less than we believe. The reason we cannot see what is going on is because our attention is continually directed to the things these Aliens wish us to see, worry about and fight for. With the manipulation by the media we seem not know anymore where to look for acting in a way that our civilization could prosper.

Right now in Africa all is getting destroyed. At the same time Europe is getting involved and possibly with bleeding economy too. From 2010 onwards, Europe will be in great economical misery, except Germany, secretly backed by the still existing covert Nazi network controlled from Neu Schwabenland in the Ant Arctic. Besides of Neu Schwabenland where the German Aryan Base 211 is located, there are also Alien IAC Bases.

SOUTH POLE

The location of this base is about here: Admiralty Mountains Mount Levick On surface of the ice.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Weather regulation after orders from a space ship.

The resources of this base include: 25 Extra terrestrials, 75 Terrans for labor and training, 55 Hybrids, 12 Space IACs for weather regulation, 1 TV control center, 1 Nuclear reactor.

Activities : Maintain unconventional atomic weapons for attack on other planets. Planet Earth is their base for warfare against inhabited planets in this area of the galaxy. Interception of any message considered important. Radio interference, and checking communications of Southern hemisphere.

SOUTH POLE

The location of this base is about here: Sor Rondane Mountains.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Fauna experiments.

The resources of this base include: 26 Extra terrestrials, 100 Hybrids, 21 Terrans, 8000 Animals from earth, 4500 Animals from other planets, 20 Space IACs with hibernation units.

Activities : Communication with other bases that work on related or similar projects, such as creating hybrid animals, using DNA of their own animal species. Making new species.

Here they work on the surface, make different climates with their atomic energy heating.

Well, so far the bases on the southern ice-cap that is going to melt within decades from now [2001].

I wanted to address a few things that I failed to mention regarding your last letter. The thing about NASA and the shuttle launches. This is slightly complex but I think I can explain it. There are two parallel worlds we live in. Not actually but in metaphorically.

The first world which is the real world, the one in which I was raised, is the one with ETs, secret societies, and nothing is what it seems. The second world is that which most people experience. The 9-5 job, a wife 2 kids and a dog, the mortgage on the house, the flat tire. The 1st world must keep the second world at bay for the 1st world knows that it is the 2nd world which truly has the power and if the 2nd world realized the existence of the 1st world it would destroy the 1st world in an instant.

In the culture we all know this so there are safeguards against everything. Even as I tell you some of the greatest information of the day I know that if any of my information came out it would be white washed and blown off by the public and me and the identity I have now would simply stop being. It's a mad mad world, George, but God damn it, someone's got to live in it.

Be careful out there, George, as the nights begin their search for prey it is but the feline which can see what comes next. Oh by the way, I think my integration is moving to the next stage. I may finally be going on to a research laboratory that does work for the US govt. After that if everything goes as planned I'll be working within the JPL by 2002.

Also I forgot to tell you about why I had asked you if you had ever heard of the corp. Telematics for Research. Actually my mother had just been stationed there and I was curious of what kind of work they did. I have very little knowledge of the European theater as I have only been used for North American projects. In my culture we seldom see our parents after we are 18 because that's about the time we get our first position in a unit.

Move again regarding the laboratory I may be moving to within the next two weeks, I am pretty sure I won't be seeing any top secret anything while I'm there. The place is involved in minor theoretical physics testing and I will just be there until I finally get moved to the JPL where I will once again be able to see firsthand the mechanics of the Blue Water crafts. I really can't wait to be back where I belong; at the forefront of the war.

I've been in this damned exile for too long now and if it wasn't for the foolish actions of my team back in Utah I'd have probably made the CIA by now. Well anyway I'm finally moving again. I do get vacation but it usually coincides with any kind of vacation they give at the current place I am employed. I have certain goals I have to attain and if I complete one I have free time to do what I want pretty much. Right now I have very few goals and except for the week where I have to make my report I have a lot of free time here. I hate it though because I love to be on the inside and in there getting the stuff to pay those bastards back. I wish they'd give me a shot at an MIB infiltration but I have a feeling I'll meet up with them again. Sure there are AI ops in the UK, they are everywhere mostly in Europe, South America and the US but also in the Mid East in some countries, Africa, and some Asian nations. They are almost entirely all Christians; that explains the geographical preference.

The committee of 300 is a joke. The AI wouldn't waste valuable time even listening to those jokers. We don't even waste an op on them. The whole committee is a pretender. I have never heard of any galactic federation but if something like that was observed by either Terran or Alien eyes I assure you I would have knowledge of something that important. I would not rule out the possibility, that somewhere out there, one exists however. The rain just won't stop over here.

I'll explain a little more about the MIB and the way in which the Aliens think. They don't think like us at all they are totally different. In fact we don't really get how they think. Its erratic, in-congruent, they don't operate the same way twice. It's hard for even me to understand and I've been dealing with it for my whole life. They definitely don't come with any kind of message, although their priests follow a liturgy close to Christianity so they speak a lot of peace and things along that line. For the most part I believe the Aliens are a good species who just want to know where they come from and I admire their constant quest to do so, but they have their terrible individuals just like we do.

They aren't innocent beings by any stretch they can be cruel without even understanding that they are so, they are foolish creatures caught in a universe that has abandoned them and though they have found a friend out there in us, we are heartless to that has exacted terror upon their people as they have ours. The universe is like a yo-yo the harder you throw it down the harder it comes back. It is therefore logical to just let the yo-yo fall and let it dangle so as to live without pain and retribution.

The tachyon shell is similar to what you're calling an electromagnetic field. The things you say about time and distance strongly resemble black hole singularity measurements of the units for time and distance; where T becomes a measurement for distance and D a measure of time. The blue water craft use a system similar to that in that the tachyon shell creates such a massive gravitational force that time and distance almost become one unit.

Your boat on water metaphor was a little off base however in that space doesn't exist. You can be in water and then out of it, whereas you cannot get out of space unless you go into something that is actually there such as atmosphere. Space is not there; it's just a distance between what's there. That's what makes the blue water craft so well made, they pull the thing they are going to towards them in a way that all space moves at the same time in relation to itself towards the craft. Of course it doesn't appear that way to anyone who sees it because space is so massive but in reality that is what's happening.

The ability to move space with a unit of time allows relativity to not be a factor as far as aging is concerned. If I left for the ET world now and say it takes me one earth day and I arrive on home on Friday I will only have aged 2 days slower than everyone else; an irrelevant amount of time as opposed to relativity's theory of what would amount to centuries.

I looked over your book of space. When I say space is not there I mean it is not there to us, it doesn't appeal to our senses therefore it is unnecessary to discuss. For now. It's distance is the only thing that affects us but we have the ability to transcend that so we don't dwell on it.

The universe as a whole still captivates us however asking questions like where are we from why did this all start. No one knew that of if the universe was expanding, I mean no on not even the ETs, until Edwin Hubble's research into light rays. The Aliens never could account for the reason they would have to reset there coordinates after every decade or so. He realized that the universe was moving apart; so the big bang makes sense. We all wonder why though. What was before that? Does anyone know? Hopefully we will find out.

As far as the gravity pull from the tachyon shells in theory that same type of shell could be made small enough to move just a planet but you'd have to make nuclear reactions small enough to power it. The Moon however is not known to have been dropped off here and even if it was there is no logical reason to leave a big hunk of rock here. Asteroids are probably chunks of planets destroyed by some sort of collisions but if you mean sentient beings destroyed planets with some kind of gun then I'd say no.

George, to side-track a bit, you may have heard once of Project Pebblestone. A certain secret technology has been used successfully to get rid of a comet by means of a time hole. I tend not to believe that "classified" story and I tell you why.

It is known by insiders that planet Earth is surrounded by a layer also referred to as "stargate". That stargate is not what you saw in the movies. It is a semi permeable layer that ensures that no-one will be able to pass through it alive. There are stories that say that this layer has been put by the aliens who destroyed planet Tiamat (now known as the Asteroid Belt). I have not seen enough proof, though. Well, regardless, that stargate seems to be controlled by [something on] the Moon. Several plans have been drawn-up to nuke the Moon in order to get rid of stargate as to open deep space travel.

What I find so inconsistent is that the Pebblestone technology is not used to get rid of stargate. Instead, HAARP keeps transmitting absolutely useless microwaves towards stargate. Yes, that's exactly HAARP's hidden agenda. HAARP uses the wrong technology, though. If Pebblestone tech would really exist, then its application is the most logical thing to do to get rid of stargate or even the Moon.

Why it has not been done remains a mystery, for now. Perhaps the Pebblestone scientists are too stigmatic, or the Pebblestone tech is sheer fiction, or stargate does not exist. Anyway, something is not cooking.

Summarized, there are various possibilities: Project Pebblestone is fiction. Post Tiamat Stargate is fiction

The well-known awesome Comet Hale-Bopp was supposed to pass right by us (in astrological terms) a very close brush with the planet Earth. What was discovered by the Air force and the Department of the Navy was that the comet was heading right for us. To redirect the comet, project "Pebblestone" (the current Air force equivalent to the Department of the Navy's Montauk project) was used. In conjunction with the corporation of most of the world governments were trying to redirect the comet using "particle beams" which we generated from here on Earth. The comet was moved, but then seemed to redirect itself back towards the Earth. It was determined that there was indeed an alien ship directing the comet directly towards Earth.

If it had hit the Earth it would have caused a wipe out of the human race. So, with the corporation of project "Pebblestone" and the Department of the Navy, a time hole was opened in front of the comet causing it to pass directly through the Earth.

The act was definitely one of aggression, as the alien's (who ever they were) were trying to "terraform" the planet for their own usage as the comet contained large amounts of "methane". This is what the top organization who actually runs the planet Earth concluded. An organization made up of a counsel of half humans and the other half made up of various alien races who's name is so secret it has never been mentioned anywhere. So they destroyed the alien ship using top secret Anti-matter technology (as some say contrary to the story of time warp technology).

The idea to nuke asteroids in an attempt to alter their trajectory is so dumb. Scientists believe that a nuke in outer space creates a shockwave that pushes an asteroid into another direction.

Well, I have news for you, in the vacuum of outer space, shockwaves are not possible. You'd need a common carrier such as an atmosphere or a fluid of any kind to hold a shockwave. And in outer space, regardless of the presence of dark matter, no shockwave can be generated within the required parameters of pressure and direction.

Moreover, if a nuke cuts an asteroid into pieces, then you'd end up with many smaller asteroids. And they all keep moving into the original direction. A nuclear blast in the vacuum of outer space will not work the way it does in an atmospheric environment. It simply radiates some heat and isotopes but it has certainly no push effect. And a few seconds heat up of an asteroid is pretty useless in space where the average temperature is near the absolute zero Kelvin.

Even scientists have been watching too many sci-fi movies, and so ending-up with immature ideas about nuking asteroids.

Another very dumb idea of very dumb scientists is to move a spaceship nearby an asteroid as to use the asteroid's gravity as a tractor beam connected to the spaceship. So where the spaceship goes, the asteroid goes. This is one of the dumbest ideas ever recorded in scientific history. Gravity is not the same as magnetism. And the mass of an asteroid is far greater than the mass of a spaceship, therefore - even if there is a tractor beam of some sort - the asteroid is leading. A bicycle riding next to a truck will not cause the truck go off-road.

If you really want to change the direction of an asteroid, then rather send an impactor to attach to the asteroid. That impactor contains a directional emanation source (read: rocket) that produces enough thrust to alter the asteroids trajectory. So basically you fix a vectoring engine onto the asteroid. Now the asteroid has become a steerable spaceship. A single nuclear blast is never enough, simply because of the enormous mass & speed of the asteroid and because no pressure wave is generated. A continuous directional force vector must be active, just like a steering rocket of a space vessel. The time lapse may span perhaps up to a year, but certainly not a few seconds burst. To change a trajectory takes a lot more than that. It is in space, where physics is different from that on Earth.

All in all, the idea of nuking an asteroid is a bit off.

Okay, enough for side-tracking.

Anyway, the BW craft can crash into debris if the debris is in the IACs pull-path it'll pull itself right into it. When such collisions occur the craft is destroyed; these are rare occurrences as the path is well plotted. I have never heard of such a collision in modern times.

I may be gone from here as of today, I am unaware of what my work environment will be like there. I will attend integration class throughout next week therefore I will be incommunicado for at least that long. I will do my best to contact you but if I am no longer able to then remember there is a reason why I have come to you and that reason will play out in the future. You must promise me that when the time presents itself you will use the knowledge given to you.

You told me that you are actually working in Saudi Arabia. I will give you some information now, where to look for some interesting secret bases. Even this most conservative country of the world has Alien bases.

There are 5 Alien IAC bases in Saudi Arabia. You have lived and worked there, George, and I know that you have been a bit too close to at least one of the bases. That's how you got troubles with your health. Two (2) of them have now been identified and these are directly related with world terrorism. This indeed confirms the various liaisons drawn with some known terrorists. The other three have different functions. Their locations are not yet known, but soon will be.

SAUDI ARABIA

BASE-1

Location: Province Midyan Mountain Jabal al Lawz 29 degrees Latitude 35 degrees Longitude.

The function or purpose of this base includes: HEADQUARTERS FOR WORLD TERRORISM that includes a Global Intelligence Center way more powerful than the CIA. Data gathered often by the "16". Works also with guerrilla groups. Computer and organizing work.

Sees that guerrilla and terrorist get trained and supplies their needs. There are hundreds of hidden bank accounts as we can see in the "16"s organization. All done by terrestrials.

The base contains and/or consists of: 4 very fast Space IACs, and a sophisticated computer

net. In addition some 7 ET Computer experts, 15 terrestrials computer experts, 5 ET plan organizers, 10 of our own, knowledgeable in many languages. Also, computers are instantaneous translators.

They know where all main training camps are located as well as their leaders.

This Base is the execution of the BRAIN for World Terrorism. Links to other Bases. Connection to Mars via Moon.

BASE-2

Location: North of Medina (George, you have been there a couple of times) Province Al Hijaz Area AL 'Ula 26.8 degrees Latitude 38 degrees Longitude

The function or purpose of this base includes: THE BRAIN FOR WORLD TERRORISM.

A small luxurious Base. They find out WHO is fit for what area.

The base contains and/or consists of: 20 ETs, high strategy officials and 20 of our own Political Experts. They are in reality hostages under false pretense as they expect high positions in the New World Order.

There is a VIP area where high ranking terrorist supporters meet.

Basic Plans are forged here and they screen the CORRECT people. There are terrorist leaders all over the planet and these are their key operators. Their purpose is World Chaos, frightened citizens, and disasters. Attention on Terrorism while other objectives can be achieved with no public attention.

Be aware of NEW LAWS in regard of decent citizens FREEDOM.

They have no Space IACs of their own. There are about 15 Hybrids for menial work.

You should know, George, that Saudi Arabia holds direct connection with Mars. No human on Earth, but only a very few insiders, knows about it. You now are the one to know. Saudi Arabia is not what it seems.

Let me give you the listing of Mars, as far as Alien IAC bases is concerned, so you will be up to date.

BASE A

The function or purpose of this base includes: Strategy (i.e. what must be achieved)

The resources of this base include: 400 Extraterrestrials, 3000 Hybrids, 500 Humans

The statement of work of this base includes: Main task consists of collecting information in order to have a complete overview of the situation on planet Earth. In addition, programs and projects are defined, reviewed and changed as needed, and are communicated in the form of orders to other bases on Mars and the Moon.

The humans are doing information analysis and evaluation, because the extra terrestrials are not very good at it. Interplanetary and intergalactic communication is largely done by controlled telepathic means. Computers and conference rooms aid in individual and well synchronized team-work. There are also facilities for relaxation.

BASE B

The function or purpose of this base includes: Logistics (i.e. what means are available)

The resources of this base include: 30 Extraterrestrials. 370 Hybrids. 110 Humans. 20 Space IACs for local traffic between Mars and Earth

The statement of work of this base includes: Storage (largely underground) for spare parts as well as shelter for several big intergalactic space IACs to protect these against harsh Martial elements (storms that even blow pieces of rock along; hence the numerous debris of stone that you see on published pictures of Martian landscapes).

Spare parts are frequently transported to Earth, so there is quite some traffic between Mars and Earth. Protein based food (such as meat [animals]) as well as carbon-hydrate based food (such as vegetables) is cultivated in green-houses. Yet much of the food supplies is imported from planet Earth. Premises for body care and mind care (such as reprogramming or implanting the fellows in a way as to make sure they do certain missions) are focused on maintaining efficiency of all workers.

BASE C

The function or purpose of this base includes: Tactics (i.e. who does what when where how)

The resources of this base include: 370 Extraterrestrials. 320 Hybrids (60 Hybrid pilots). 80 Humans

The statement of work of this base includes: The project tasks (detail work scheduling & resource assignment) that are derived from the strategic plans (BASE A) are put into the minds of the fellows as to make sure that they execute the work exactly as scheduled. Media (such as voice, documents, etc.) communication is done through their network system.

Sometimes instructions to fellows on Earth or on the Moon are given in person rather than by remote messaging. No Humans are allowed to serve as pilots, possibly because of their tendency to escape.

Now, let's go back to Earth again. And I will tell you a quick story; it's about what happened to me a few months back when I had to stop talking to you for a while. Within the faction to which I belong there is a school of boys brought up to be leaders of the infiltration teams. I am one of those boys. In this environment we are brought up to be the most highly trained, most disciplined, most knowledgeable of all are culture. We have to know so much information by the time we are 18 that it would boggle your mind if you knew how much I actually know about any subject.

Our group is built on tradition and brotherhood; we go by the name Ad Vitam Aeternam, meaning for eternal life. We are the most feared of all operatives of all factions in that we can get into anywhere, we are perfect chameleons, we are bound by tradition to obtain 100% success. No one in the brotherhood fails every birth year is trained together so the children selected with me are the ones who I would grow up with and spend every single day for 12 years with.

After that sort of upbringing the only person you love more than those men are your own mother. So it is very traumatic when one of the men you have shared your life with decides to go to turn over information to another faction in this case the AI. Tradition says that it is the responsibility of the birth group to take care of the situation once it is established that a member has turned on his culture. We had to find him and take his life. We would finally catch him about a month after the news that he was a turncoat.

There is a ceremony for his death that we must carry out. The ceremony is strange to the outsider but it is tradition and part of our mystique. We don't play around with our rituals so be careful of the way you talk of this in the future because we don't take it lightly. The ceremony begins with all of us nude in the room and the one who is to die stands alone inside a small tub. We each take turns approaching him to kiss him. After the kiss he will take the left arm of the one who has kissed him with his right arm; then the with his right arm the brother will take a small blade and make a precise cut on the body of our friend who will die. Everyone does this until the last one finally takes his blade to the jugular and he dies with his blood leaking into the tub. We all then must take a symbolic bath in his blood by stepping into the tub and kind of rubbing his blood on us. When all this is completed we spend the evening laying together in a room all on separate mats just as we had done when we were just children.

Let me tell you one thing space and Aliens and rival factions be damned, it is our relationship with each other that makes us strong and when one of us dies we all lose something. Though he may have given secrets away that compromised the lives of some of our ops he was still a part of us he was us and we miss him.

Maybe you should not look so much into my world and look for someone to share in your world and I don't mean a wife or something like that but a friend someone who will be there when life starts to slip away because at that time there will be no need to know about anything I've told you and I assure you will want someone to just hold your hand and tell you everything will be alright. Well take care of yourself while I'm away and remember "fata viam invenient."

Well regarding the attachment on the MJ 12 thing I would first like to express my admiration of this guy. The research he must have put in to create this piece must have been tremendous. Obviously it is nothing more than a hodgepodge from different theory books on ETs but nonetheless it was a good work as far as sci-fi goes. Of course I know that most of it is nonsense although some of the things he mentioned are near true. The first thing that should catch one's eye is his mistakes he makes in talking about the Aliens themselves. Let's pretend for a minute that me and you know nothing of the information I have given you and we want to believe this man's account. We start with his descriptions of the ETs. We get insect like then they create energy through photosynthesis kind of like plants and also they are gray with big noses and then near the end they eat any bio material especially blood and also they can talk.

Are they photosynthesizing blood sucking insect plants with an affinity for Cyrano de Bergerac. A creature would not need a nose if it used photosynthesis but it may need one if it had to feed on blood as these do towards the end of the document. He says they can talk but don't you find it kind of strange that they have vocal chords and then ones that are strong enough to be able to make speech. Picture if you can an insect trying to open its mouth and talk I mean do they have tongues? Do they have pliable faces? Impossible. All that comes to mind is Jimmy Cricket and I'm pretty sure he's no Alien. Another question is this second Alien race that is more hominoid. They swing down all the sudden just as the damn grasshoppers are parked outside of our planet and try and make a deal with us so we can avert an Alien invasion or something along these lines. The deal as I understand it is this: we get rid of nuclear weapons and become peaceful and stop destroying our world and they will save us from the Aliens.

Now our bombs are useless against the insects right? Well then logic leads me to ask just how were the second Aliens going to save us from the first. Chanting? Peace marches? Sit-ins? No he meant they were going to stop the insects through the use of some force or another; OK so we have man sized roaches and now hypocrites. Great universe. I think the world is tired of hearing the old cliché of the Aliens coming here to tell us to save our planet, I wish they came here and that's all they wanted then my life wouldn't be so damned complicated. Here's a few questions I would ask. If US planes weren't any good against Alien craft why would they continue to build warplanes along the same lines since then? Common sense would tell one that a change is needed. We are human beings, masters of the Earth. We did not get to where we are today because we are fools; that's another sci-fi cliché, that we are inferior beings. Why in the hell would Aliens who are so advanced just drop mutilated animals and humans down on the ground even though they knew they were violating some treaty? Even without the treaty why would you bother flying back to earth just to dump useless bodies? If US weapons were so inferior why not just take the planet and use the human occupants for your experiments and save yourself the trouble of all the sneaking around, why allow the human weaklings to start research on weapons that may be able to stop you from the research that will save your species? He knows so much info dealing with every facet of this starting from the beginning, he even has statements made at the first meetings from the 50's. He paints a picture of himself as being an insider a man who has seen it all because he was there. Well it seems funny that 20 years later in the 1970's he's still asking questions of his commanding officer. I mean by now it seems like he should be one of the main players and yet he's running around asking jackass questions.

Another stupid thing he mentioned was the beam weapons. What is this star wars? Where's Yoda when you need him? I bet if you asked the guy he'd say that when you shot the beam weapons they'd make a noise like "cheew cheew". I mean come on. He says if you want to start looking for the money trail "look to" and he gives certain financial institutions names. I mean what does he mean look at those banks? What is a person supposed to do go sit outside and watch who comes in and out or does he want the reader to break in to the computer files and find the documents like on television or movies? He has no real evidence. Although he likes to throw around document names like they're going out of style. He has no pictures even though he says he has seen some; that's always how it is with these guys. I wish an MIB would pay a visit to a few of the guys and show them what's really going on. It sickened me when he spoke of how any govt. would create men who would gun down children. That is the most powerful rule we have in my world never purposefully harm the children even the MIB adhere to that rule. Another thing that got me upset was when he tried to excuse Hitler by saying that period of our history had some Alien influence. Well no it did not. We have to take on the blame as human beings that we did that. There are no excuses from it

W.W.II was a human war. I like the part where he says "We have been lied to." well if what he says is true then he's been the one lying to the rest of the Americans because he knew of everything 40 years ago. Obviously this was written during the early 90's, probably around the time of the gulf war. He makes lame attempts at telling the future by making references to an anti Christ that bears a strong resemblance to Saddam Hussein. Strange how no one has walked into Israel the way he mentioned don't you think? He talks about an American crime wave that has since subsided and was never really anything more than the media dwelling on the bad. He makes the president at the time, George Bush, an evil man who has brought on the plague of drugs to the American people while he makes President Kennedy out to be a martyr in the name of freedom. Bush was a republican, Kennedy was a democrat, which do you think our author is? Kennedy was a good American however and it was indeed his idea to set foot on the Moon. He indeed built the US space program into what it is today; the premiere space exploratory organization out there. He wanted to create something that the American people could say they made; he wanted them to do it for themselves as did the Russians. The ETs don't have space suits so if the area where they are searching doesn't have the correct atmosphere then they will not leave the BW craft. So Americans were probably the first on the Moon and the ability to stop and venture out of the shuttles allows them to be better observers of space. What the Aliens have contributed is a larger map of the galaxy and universe and that is invaluable to space exploration. Well I got a kick out of that and I wish I knew where that guy was so I could give him a glimpse into how things really are. Have a good one George and in a way it's good to be back.

The Sens have become tight lipped about the "heaven" planet but they give information to the Illuminati and we are able to intercept that. Russia is looking evermore unstable to everyone within the community and some are even meeting to allow an AI takeover and restructuring of the government although it does not seem the US govt. is on board with that idea. The AI probably have enough consent from other areas to do so however. When I said the Aliens found the "heaven" planet containing souls I meant exactly that. The Sens got a weak radio wave signal coming from a gas giant orbiting a star in the region outlined by the Orion constellation. Upon researching the star they found on the planets iron surface a civilization that at first seemed to have disappeared When the blue water craft entered the atmosphere they no longer existed. Upon further research and observation including the use of American made planet mapping devices the Sens discovered there were beings living in the cities on the planet but these beings were only visible to ultraviolet light which they cannot see either. The beings all resemble humans and there are no other species there. The mix of different period dress and style of building structures suggest a hodgepodge of human culture and it is a hypothesis of the Sens and their Vatican supporters that this planet surrounded by 3 rings with 3 Moons and whose mathematical absolute is 3 is the biblical heaven. 333 being the number of the holy trinity I believe from apocalypse. anyway whatever it is all we want to know in AVA is whether or not Gaius Julius Caesar is there and is there a way to summon him. In my opinion it's all a bunch of bullshit and I need to see some pictures before I get too excited about it but those in the know seem to feel it is legitimate.

We in our secret faction are information gatherers. We take the info we collect from say the AI and sell it to the US or to the Aliens or whoever will buy the info at the highest price. Information is our weapon; we are responsible for the balance of power in that we reveal a groups secret to its rival. Other factions use weapons to hold their place among the world we use our knowledge.

We have no true allies like other factions may have. We play all sides and no sides at once. We are the keepers of the worlds safety and yet we may also be the instruments of its destruction. Everyone knows of our existence but they can do nothing really to stop us because we don't have to recruit members they are born and raised into us. We could be growing up anywhere going to school as regular children do (unless you are selected as I was). We go to high-school then on to the University all with the goal of getting that position at the correct facility. It is impossible to find us because we are everyone else. The ETs are the hardest to infiltrate because we don't look like them and we have no transportation to their planets so we mostly gather info on them through other factions.

My personal feelings want for the ETs to move on from here to search for their origins elsewhere and do their rituals somewhere else. I would hope mankind could rid itself of these madmen that think this is fun and we could all start building a dream society something that we could be proud of; something that the universe could be proud of. Sometimes I think that I could go out and tell the world of all I know and try and end all this but I'm not strong enough ... yet. Oh yeah we have no dealings with the JPL on the surface we infiltrate them though. I'm going to steal American info so my faction can sell it to the highest bidder. Not exactly admirable.

I didn't know you meant that when you mentioned The committee of 300. I got it mixed up with a small group called 300 nations. (I was wondering how you knew of them). Well the committee that he outlines doesn't exist. Here's the real deal At the top there is NATO and the AI those are the most powerful 50% of NATO power is American the rest of the members make up the other 50% The AI is mostly rich individuals in high places. These are mostly old wealth families. The amount of money they possess is immeasurable. The strength of its forces if it had to go to war is unknown but believed to be far inferior to even the US alone. However the kind of army they could raise if necessary is a hot question. Under these two is my faction our name is Latin of course. I have told you pretty much about what we do.

China, Japan, Russia, GBR, Germany are all powerful players. Probably unknown to you are other factions with smaller strength but are important are : From China, there is the white lotus (I don't remember the name in Chinese) The Middle Eastern Muslim group with a name like Jarey ( something like that). The Aliens of course play a major role in everything and the Vatican has strong allies especially with the many European smaller orders. I'm a North American OP so my entire training has been directed towards this continent so my knowledge of other far off factions is not as strong. A good faction here in the US is the Followers of Franklin, a highly patriotic group whose entire operations depend on science. They develop chemicals to use as weapons. They have never unleashed these though as they are not terrorists but if they ever decide to use some of the things they have created someone is going to be in trouble. There are many small groups that are ineffective and negligible such as the 300 Nations group that has some powerful individuals within its organization but they don't make up for its weaknesses.

South America is most known for extra-terrestrial activity. As you read through this, it will become clear why South America is one of the major playgrounds for genetic food manipulation.

SOUTH AMERICA

ANTIGUA AND BARBUDA

The location of this base is about here: Antigua Indian Town Point direction East, before it gets too deep, about 92 miles out to sea

The function or purpose of this base includes: Surveillance of Caribbean area.

The resources of this base include: 65 Extra terrestrials, 75 Hybrids,

The statement of work of this base includes: Mainly monitoring of air traffic.

BAHAMAS

The location of this base is about here: North East of Little Inagua in US territory waters.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Execution.

The resources of this base include: 50 Extra terrestrials, 175 Hybrids, 30 Trainees
3 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Here some Humans work for them. They have been prepared and tested in other bases where they have done successful missions before starting to work in this place.

Focus on subversive wars, i.e. to make us fight against each other, and not allow these fights to stop. This Base can be approached by ordinary ships, and entered through a tunnel from Little Inagua. Food supplies come from land bases in Central America and from Venezuela.

BAHAMAS-ACKLINS

The location of this base is about here: In water between Acklins and Ragged Island Range.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Camouflage.

The resources of this base include: 80 Extra terrestrials

The statement of work of this base includes: On the outside, this base does not look like a base but merely like a fauna research center. Underneath there is a communication center to stay in contact with the outer world, other planets and Andromeda home-base Communication to or from outer space for Earth bases go via Mars or Moon, but never directly. Programs are being received, information is sent, all concerning our turbulent future.

It is dangerous for IACs or planes to get too close. If at the base any threat is felt, they would destroy the threat with lethal beams, but only if they considered it dangerous, otherwise they prefer to work without showing their presence.

BAHAMAS-ELEUTHERA

The location of this base is about here: Bahamas Eleuthera , underwater with tunnel connection to land in the Western bay.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Information center.

The resources of this base include: 70 Extra terrestrials, 100 Hybrids, 50 Businessmen

The statement of work of this base includes: This Base has filed much of the American top secret data. For the Extra Terrestrials there are no secrets about us. Through advanced spies and access to any computer, they get all the information they might need. Only the master spies or infiltrators have access to this Base. They have contact with some of the groups behind the president, who knows very little of what really is going on, as he must be able to appear clean in front of the nation and world.

This Base has masterminded quite a few events in our recent history, such as the atomic bombing on Hiroshima and possibly the war in Kosovo, which seem hard to explain from a historical viewpoint.

BERMUDA

The location of this base is about here: 112 Miles West of Somerset Island, under water!
The Bermuda Triangle has never been a fantasy.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Energy production.

The resources of this base include: 130 Extra terrestrials, 225 Hybrids, 3 IAC docking stations

The statement of work of this base includes: This Base has been constructed in the mid 1930's, helped by the Government of the United Kingdom in exchange for some of their obsolete experimental machines. Our new technology has been originated by this exchange.

Water and air get pulled in large quantities, to extract specific particles by means of mechanical ultra centrifuge, then compressed into containers to be distributed to other bases.

Electricity is produced, also for surrounding bases. In terms of organization management, this base is a reference to all other bases.

BERMUDA

The location of this base is about here: 100 Miles North of Barbuda, under water.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Genetic engineering.

The resources of this base include: 130 Extra terrestrials, 80 Hybrids, 1100 Humans, 2 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Genetic experiments on production of conserved food supplies, blood being the most important ingredient. Abducted and mutilated humans, who are kept imprisoned, and animals are the main sources for blood.

BERMUDA

The location of this base is about here: 150 Miles North West of Barbuda, under water.

The function or purpose of this base includes: Maintenance of logistics.

The resources of this base include: 65 Extra terrestrials, 100 Hybrids, 4 Transportation crafts

The statement of work of this base includes: Prototyping of technical devices. Repair of machines. Storage of hi-tech logistics.

BERMUDA

The location of this base is about here: North of Antigua, between Barbuda and Antigua islands, under water

The function or purpose of this base includes: Programming and processing

The resources of this base include: 50 Extra terrestrials, 25 Humans

The statement of work of this base includes: High level planning of top secret projects related with globalization and world government.

Highly trained and implanted Terrans, without their knowing, are working on global planning and organization. Advanced intelligent computers are used to simulate organizational and political scenarios. Fundamental treaties are based on agreements by our governments, to make this global re-organization possible.

PUERTO RICO

The location of this base is about here: At the river ending of Playa de Ponce in Cordillera Central

The function or purpose of this base includes: Infiltration training.

The resources of this base include: 200 Extra terrestrials, 150 Hybrids, 180 Trainees, 8 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Expert center for infiltration training, using sophisticated weapons and persuasion devices. The training consists mostly in maintaining hidden warfare, usually under the label of liberators. The leaders Che Guevara and Marcos have been trained and implanted here.

For guerrilla wars one must be fit. They teach the people using psychology and implants. Here is taught how to use the invisible weapons in order to make people do what they want.

This base uses worldwide co-ordination with strong attention on the area they want to get into. The result of their attention is generally turmoil or similar situation. Ultimate goal is to have global disorder, being the prerequisite for introducing a new world order.

PUERTO RICO

The location of this base is about here: North East of Cerro de Punta Cordillera Central towards Lake Caonillas

The function or purpose of this base includes: Hangar for space crafts.

The resources of this base include: 90 Extra terrestrials, 130 Hybrids

The statement of work of this base includes: Mechanical maintenance, scrapping and recycling used parts, using high technology machines and computers for repair and maintenance.

PUERTO RICO

Location :

Cordillera Central Area Monte Guillarte where Rio Grande de Arecibo starts

The function or purpose of this base includes: Construction and logistics

The resources of this base include: 170 Extra terrestrials, 300 Hybrids, 70 Humans, 30 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Whatever was needed of imported materials for the construction of the other bases comes here for minor replacements. It supplies for the needs of the neighboring bases.

Many abducted people do not even know that they have been gone. They have become living spies, without even knowing it, as their mind has been manipulated thoroughly and they are monitored with chips in the body or mind implants.

Space made for storage and for assembling things, but not for intergalactic crafts, except for landing and take-off for shipments.

SANTA LUCIA

The location of this base is about here: Santa Lucia Mount Gimic

The function or purpose of this base includes: Mental experiments with Humans

The resources of this base include: 80 Extra terrestrials, 190 Hybrids, 280 Humans, 5 IACs

The statement of work of this base includes: Not just experimenting but actually executing means of refinement of control over the masses for purposes such as strikes, revolts, voting and various forms of psychosis.

High frequency psychotronic waves are transmitted over the population in order to put them in a state of apathy or amnesia. Specific gases are released from their crafts during flight. The transmissions include the commands they want us to obey, and the gases are drugs.

Additionally, these waves provoke diseases appearing all over the place. Some of the diseases spread this way cannot be really cured. So people take lots of useless medications with adverse effects on their mental health.

URUGUAY

The location of this base is about here: Border with Brazil near Rivera Santana do Livramento Area Minas de Corrales

The function or purpose of this base includes: Food engineering

The resources of this base include: 50 Extra terrestrials, 100 Hybrids, 6 Large crafts, 800 Different animals

The statement of work of this base includes: In Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay, which are important agricultural areas, diseases are engineered in a way that they can come through food in order to manipulate the population through the food they eat.

Experiments are made out in the fields to see how things develop in these soils. For these, humans are used. All their experiments are done with living entities, such as animals and humans.

Abducted people work for them and food is being tested on them. Abductees from this Base are trained and implanted so that they can go back into their normal life environments, seemingly totally normal. But they are not. They are monitored by means of micro devices in their bodies.

Okay, now back to the previous subject, not to get side-tracked by this tour. Sorry I didn't have some fancy chart to explain everything but I'm too lazy to make something like that up. It's not that important anyway for now at least all you need to know is the top two and the Aliens.

That thing in Kosovo could have been engineered by the AI. It probably isn't but that's the kinds of things they do to each other. That's how the war is fought; under the surface where most eyes don't see. Everything is a blanket that must be removed. Someday, if they let me, I hope I get a chance to go out there and see some of the better things on this planet like Stone Henge or the pyramids or some of the great temples in China or I would love to see Paris or St. Petersburg or Vienna.

I would love to even see the Grand Canyon here in the states. You see for all I have seen I still am not free to see what people like you are allowed to see. I am bound to my bloodline to go where they want me to go and to know what they want me to know. Well for the most part I have done as they asked but I have found an escape from them. Books. American literature is amazing. Works like Walden by HD Thoreau and Moby Dick by Herman Melville, The Great Gatsby by F Scott Fitzgerald have all helped me cope with the world I am bound to.

I would never publish what I know on the web because the web isn't the proper forum for it. The web is filled with disinformation and no one would believe anything I would say and furthermore I don't have anything that could be construed as proof, however if I had some solid proof then I would be tempted to blow the lid off of everything (I hope I don't get into any trouble for saying this).

Proof in this dream world is all too hard to come by and also going against my people may be too hard to do even if it is to save mankind. One thing though, if I really wanted to get some proof I could get some (not in this place though). I am one of the best ops on the West coast so if I really want something I can get it.

I am reluctant to move drastically yet as I am not yet totally aware of how every player is moving. I am only a few years in the field and I don't have the feeling of everything and how it all flows. My age group however had the best trainer in our culture and ours is the highest ranking origin in the Ad Vitam Aeternam of the decade; with the exception of my teams blunder in Utah we have a 100% success rate in information obtained which is kind of upsetting to me because when we have "reunion" every July. I get teased by the brothers but I am probably the best in the group except I take too many chances but I also bring in the most expensive information. I don't think it's necessary to take you web site down I am pretty sure they probably haven't even seen it and if they did wouldn't mind it but you never know with them because we don't get why they approach some and yet not others.

About the BW craft, there is no actual substance called blue water it is a description of the tachyon shell's color as seen up close; it looks like swirling blue water. I have never seen a whole craft so I have no idea about a lot of this stuff that you're asking but the 3 reactors are macro-fission reactors that are somehow antimatter/matter simultaneous engines.

The shell from what I know is created then changed to antimatter faster than light therefore I believe allowing it to be there and then not there at the same time. The shell does indeed surround the whole craft as it travels distances but the shell may be shut down for normal speed through atmosphere. I think the lights that you and other people refer too are just atmospheric reflections off the shell. The motion plots on an XYZ vertices' basis. If black helicopters do exist they are no more than Helicopters with their lights turned off like the ones MIB use to get around. I'm sure many of these "black helicopter" sightings in the US are just American Comanche helicopters flying training missions.

I think what you are saying is correct to a point about the olfactory communication however keep in mind they also use sounds in conjunction with the smells. About the flowers etc. I don't think it has a large affect upon them as there sense is to high and just as we can listen to a single voice in a crowded room no doubt they can do the same with scent. The grays are the ETs that's how they look pretty much. The eyes are indeed because of the low light on their planet. The star by which they live is about twice that of ours but their planet is farther away from their sun. They have found fossils of their people and their fossil record shows they have always had those eyes so if they were indeed brought their then they came from a similar low light planet. As for the Swiss, I'm not really into Europe so I can't be certain but I do believe there is a strong possibility for that.

One thing I forgot to mention the other day was that yes they are indeed monitoring our communication. I found this out when my I was reprimanded for what I said about leaving the culture and telling everyone what I know. It's nothing to worry about though but know that anything you say to me is indeed being looked at by about 15 other people and reviewed. They won't do anything though because they know me and you have nothing that anyone else would believe and also I'm AVA so they tend not to put pressure on me. I guess you could do something like that with tachyon shells, like digging.

But I still don't think there is an underground tunnel system. At least not on the grand scale you're talking about. There is no communication between the craft while in flight because it's so fast you don't need to communicate. There is also no visual while the shell is up but when in atmosphere and the shell is lowered you can communicate and see out a window made from some kind of super strong synthetic garbage it's kind of dusty looking though. I hope you don't think I said anything about the crafts being able to dig holes. I said it seems possible to create a tachyon shell that could dig dirt. After taking a look at the maps you sent me a few questions come up immediately. Who created the maps? How do they know this information to be true?

With the exception of the Alien base map, why do all the maps look like they've been drawn on a table napkin during lunch at McDonalds? I mean they are so damn vague it makes me sick. George listen to me; to find the truth you must believe nothing unless you can prove it yourself. You must be a skeptic or the false information will drown the truth. Your theories are good but you take them as truth at the same moment you hypothesize them.

Right now you know nothing of the truth. You have what I have told you and what countless others have told you but it all could be lies. You must ask the hard questions, the ones people are uncomfortable answering. What you have right now is the starting line; the video. Even the video though is nothing more than dots in the sky; it proves that something was seen by you that day. But what was it? You know for a fact that something was in the sky that day and it resembles what others have taped around the world. No one has a positive film of anything that is anything more than a flying silvery dot, why? In a world where the difference between dreams and reality is nothing more than a quick blink of one's eyes everything could be a lie.

I was raised to be a detective I know how to find things. You need to stop worrying about tunnels and holes in the Earth and even factions. Start with the one thing you know to be true. Start asking the tough questions. Stop believing anything that appeals to your imagination and start analyzing things sensibly. Some things you should have asked me but never have: where was I born? what year? what's my mother's family name? there are a few variations in my story such as when I first approached you I had talked of great horror but yet nothing I have told you about the world is too terrible compared to what has already happened and is well known, why is that?

Why would my faction allow me to talk to you about almost anything? How come a man by the name of JM died two years ago in a strange unsolved homicide in Utah and yet he continues to generate a current credit report although now listed as 15 years younger than the age of his death? Who am I really? Why would an ace leader of Ad Vitam Aeternam be stuck at a damn tax board with no team and no clear goals during the beginnings of major world changes?

Ask the tough questions believe nothing except what you have seen with your own eyes or have proven beyond a reasonable doubt. Most of your maps represent the US well you have someone who could check some of these things out for you especially in Nor-Cal. I am who I say I am but you don't know that and if you don't know that about me then how can you believe anyone else you have met on here with claims that are hard to believe. You have to collect information.

If you want to find the truth you have to look for it, you can't just get it off the damn internet. Find real evidence. I'm sure you have people that claim to be abductees there in Holland, well pay them a visit and see if they will show you something solid. Do you have regular contact with anyone else on the net? Do they have any worthwhile info? I have time in the evenings some nights and I have access to an IRC so let's see if we can't get some people to talk about what they know and then let's see who's information gets crushed and whose sounds reasonable and then move on from there. Well the sun just came out. Think about what I said and then ask yourself, do you want the truth or do you want a fantasy to take the dull gray out of your life?

Well my only goal in writing to you was to make you ask harder questions. I guess because I have to get information and quickly that I get a little impatient. I guess I was looking for you to ask questions in the way I was brought up to. The thing about the maps is, there are underground bases doing all types of research but for someone to suggest that there is a map on the internet of these bases and they haven't been destroyed completely is absurd and to top it off whoever created these maps did grade school work in the drawing.

The only person who could have such info of these bases would have to be someone that has super secret knowledge, correct? Then if I was someone who wanted to get my info out into the open why wouldn't I make my information as clear as possible? Why would I create my maps on something similar to ms paint? I have knowledge of 2 underground research laboratories that I have been to in the US. These are not very special however; one of them dealt with studying the effects of the subterranean life of plants and the other was a weapons manufacturing and testing facility focusing on the invention of hand held chemical weapons.

Australia is one of the least suspected continents to hold Alien IAC bases. But I have a list for you here. On every continent there are Alien IAC Bases. Australia is no exception. Here is the data, per region :

NORTH

The location of this base is about here: West from Great Dividing Range South Queensland, near the border to New South Wales Murra-Mura

The function or purpose of this base includes: Industrial base.

The resources of this base include: 150 Extra terrestrials, 150 Hybrids, 5 Carrier space IACs, 10 small crafts

The statement of work of this base includes: Generating the electromagnetic power for all Australian bases.

Repair of any machines out of order, such as ships, computers, weapons. They have specialized people from Andromeda because they will not show Terrans how to repair or produce these objects. Any Terran witness gets shot with rays that burn up the body. Asian technicians are used, but they get killed when their work is complete.

NORTH

The location of this base is about here: Northern part of New South Wales near Collierina Eastern Australia

The function or purpose of this base includes: Cultivate deserted areas.

The resources of this base include: 60 Extra terrestrials, 100 Terrans, 200 Aborigines, 7 Abduction crafts, 7 Patrol crafts

The statement of work of this base includes: Crossing races of plants and people. Implanting micro monitoring devices in Humans to make them become subject to them. Planning the Agricultural Scene in Asia. Train people in a new way of agriculture, changing Asian customs. Transform the ozone layer.

NORTH

The location of this base is about here: Mount Davenport Near Lake Mackay Reserve Northern Australia

The function or purpose of this base includes: Agricultural and animal DNA distortion.

The resources of this base include: 25 Extra terrestrials, 20 Terrans, 70 Hybrids, 3 Carrier space ships

The statement of work of this base includes: Supply of aborigines.

Experiments in seed developments, mixing our seeds with seeds from their home. Also animal experiments to increase their breeding. Experiments with crossing humans with animals too. Supply of aborigines.

EAST

The location of this base is about here: Great Artesian Basin Hoods Range Eastern Australia

The function or purpose of this base includes: Monitor Australian politics and economy.

The resources of this base include: 50 Extra terrestrials 215 Hybrids 170 kidnapped Humans 1400 Trainees 5 Transport space IACs 25 Psycho crafts

The statement of work of this base includes: Genetic experiments on Hybrids. Both individual and mass psychotronic experiments on Terrans in order to exert influence. Food supplying for all Australian bases.

SOUTH

The location of this base is about here: Strzecki Desert Area Southern Australia

The function or purpose of this base includes: Re-educate Leaders

The resources of this base include: 20 Extra terrestrials 40 Terrans 15 Hybrids

The statement of work of this base includes: Specialized mental doctors, using psycho-tech equipment, reprogram the minds of Asian Leaders.

SOUTH

The location of this base is about here: Cordillo Downs Area Southern Australia

The function or purpose of this base includes: Procurement for Strzecki Base.

The resources of this base include: 200 Extra terrestrials 200 Terrans 175 Hybrids 6 Small crafts 20 Big transportation crafts.

The statement of work of this base includes: Specialized mental doctors, using psycho-tech equipment, reprogram the minds of Asian Leaders. This base is a communications base, both for storage and relay. From this base, communication is sent and received, so that no attention be drawn to the other Base. IACs from outside come down here from where they go to other Bases. From this base, programs received from the Andromeda Headquarters Base are made and sent out. They communicate with the Bering Strait Base. They work in combination on the political scene. Training pilots and warriors. Abduction of doctors and professors in political science, economy, sociology and criminology, in order to feed their knowledge based computers. All abductees are expendable, i.e. killed after their use. They work under mental duress. Some, when they find out what this is all about, commit suicide. Manipulation of Asian economy, through computers with different banking systems. They trace wealth to suppress it.

WEST

The location of this base is about here: Mount Allott near Lake Gillen Gibson Desert Western Australia

The function or purpose of this base includes: Political line to the Russian Base near Bering Strait

The resources of this base include: 365 Extra terrestrials 3800 Humans 18 Space IACs 1400 Trainees

The statement of work of this base includes: Coordination of their patrolling. This Base has the responsibility for the Southern part of Asia. Their control of the population is based on keeping them in ignorance. They are very aware if anyone attempts to help people out of their present ignorance. If someone does so, they start a discredit campaign on the people or person involved.

Their purpose is never to have a united planet, so they help producing local quarrels and antagonism between East and West. In the Study center for Eastern cultures, leaders are trained to increase antagonism. trainees believe they have been on another planet when coming out of this place. Political leaders are instructed by thought, once on their own home-base Political experiments are done with Asian and Australian races.

Teachers are kidnapped because they are being used to teach languages to the infiltrators. Cattle, mainly sheep, are mutilated to provide the blood they need for their feeding. Weather technology is based on using crystals for provoking typhoons and to try producing rain in the desert. They want Australia to be isolated in order to be able to use it as their own land to have their central base.

Not everything secret has to be extraordinary, remember that. The "15" people I mentioned that monitored my outgoing and incoming email was just a figure it's actually more like a team of 7 but that is unimportant. The reason they are watching what I'm sending out is because they want to make sure I'm not revealing names or addresses of other members; which of course I would never do.

I cannot tell you why I have come to you but I assure you that it will become very clear within the next few years. I don't want anything in return except that you search for the answers you seek but at the same time don't let it control your life. My life is predestined. My role is set and I have the benefit of being a major player on the stage but I will never be the star and for that I will always be haunted. Caesar said the die is cast and it has but this time for you and all the world and the game will be played to the end within the next 20 yrs. Who will be left standing? Who has the knowledge to escape the tyranny that surrounds everyone.

I know more than most people on this planet but still I am only to read within the first act and we are moments away from Act 2 Scene 1.

A puzzle for you: Rome still stands, in the shadows of time an empire has hidden and all that have not forgotten its strength may be spared its sword. Caesar rules but still for the daggers have no meaning to gods and generals. Look to the hill where a man gives a sermon it is him that is known to be the God. The Emmanuel was slain and the empire was slain but how is it that both still exist if only under the dark sky? This is what was left to me by an old man in his will. It's supposed to mean something but not just what it seems to say but there is a code in it of some kind but I was never too good at codes so I never really bothered with it but there is supposed to be some kind of key within it. If you feel like playing with it then go for it.

Here I now outline a conceptual organization, known as The Septagon. It gives you a clear overview of what the New World Order is about, from a whole different perspective than you would find on the internet. As I said before, the internet is not the resource to look for truth.

Management division.

Rules shall be set and enforced.

Meta evil administration department

Evil analysis and design section

Principal purpose of Septagon's evil shall be to achieve maximum bad, as to (unconsciously) support the necessity for increasing good so that the highest goal of life can be reached which lies in ultimate truth and happiness, but only for the conspirators.

1.2

Legal department

1.2.1

Law enforcement section

Laws shall be construed in a way that the population is forced to invest resources in supporting evil, while thinking that support is given for the greatest good for the greatest group.

1.2.2

Self protection by law abuse section

Laws shall be constructed in a way that major evil doers are protected whenever they support the Septagon's plans and orders and that minor evil doers are punished as to show the population how good the laws are.

1.3

Authorities department

Leader delegates section

Local leaders shall be selected according to their willingness to follow the Septagon's plans and orders, while being unconscious about the source of these, thus thinking these are their own plans and orders. Where necessary, local leaders shall be programmed according to Septagon's standards and procedures.

1.3.2

Authority background control section

Local authorities shall be selected according to their background being compatible with the Septagon's purpose to hide certain truths from the many, while being unconscious about the truth of the real truth, thus thinking their truth is the real truth. Authorities shall be monitored, and where necessary, put out of their position.

1.3.3

Peace inhibition section

Peace shall be inhibited, thus there shall be ongoing war, thus forced development of technology and economics.

Communications division

Information shall be set and enforced.

Connections department

Telecommunications section

Public communication lines shall be no threat against Septagon by keeping the information flows at the appropriate untruth level suitable to the conspirats. The Septagon shall continuously monitor the information flow as to exert additional control over exceptions. Information networks shall be applied to enforce predefined information flow in order to provoke homogeneous mass population thinking, so that standard control is facilitated.

2.2

Transportation department

2.2.1

Vehicles and roads section

Means of transportation shall be kept low-tech to the public in order to ensure that physical threat against the Septagon may not occur. Underground transportation and connection facilities shall be kept secret and only be available to nominated staff.

Planes and airways section

Airways shall be established and fixed by imposed navigation stations and means of navigation as to inhibit planes from penetrating areas, such as the polar entrances to the inner hollow planet that shall be hidden from the many.

Publicity & art department

2.3.1

News control section

By over exposure of intermediate results of evil, the population shall be blinded for the final results of evil, thus news shall concentrate on events rather than backgrounds or sources.

2.3.2

Censor of publications section

To ensure the real truth be hidden from the many, any attempt to make the real truth known to the many shall be inhibited by no matter what means.

2.3.3

Pastime technology section

During rest time, outside of the regular population's work, which is in fact unconscious support in evil, further connection with the truth shall be scrambled by distraction, called art and play, as to ensure that no mental threat against the Septagon may occur. Mental busyness, such as games and toys and other pastime, shall be applied all over.

3

Valuables division

Goods shall be set and enforced.

3.1

Labor exchange department

3.1.1

Taxation & robbery section

Authorities shall force the population to pay taxes by punishing them if they do not support their services. The population shall be made to believe that taxes are for the greatest good for the greatest number.

3.2

Goods exchange department

3.2.1

Property control section

Property shall be limited to the physical lifetime of the individual. When coming back to life in a new body, gain of property shall be subject to starting all over again. This shall be in contradiction with the fact that the spirit governs the body and its environment.

3.2.2

Assets inflow section

Although the whole planet is under control by the hidden conspirators, and so covertly being their belonging, it cannot be their possession overtly. Therefore, any assets shall be obtained through channels that are of official character in the eyes of the population.

3.3

Currency control department

3.3.1

Banking and poverty section

The poor shall be feeling rich by the ability to get enough and the rich shall be feeling poor by the inability to get enough.

3.3.2

Stockmarket and cheating section

Assets shall be stored when they should not, because that increases value; assets shall be put into the economic circulation when they should not, because that provokes hunger for the stored assets.

3.3.3

Value discrimination section

That which is scarce shall have high value but shall be relatively useless. That which is plenty shall have low value although relatively useful.

4

Technology division

Technology shall be set and enforced.

4.1

Research and design department

4.1.1

Perfect imperfection section

In order to generate economics, imperfection shall be introduced in a way that it is perceived otherwise. Thus employment shall be generated.

4.2

Education department

4.2.1

Knowledge control section

Educational institutions shall concentrate on subjects in ways that are compatible with the conspirats plan. And the way to do that is to have them as close as possible to the truth, but just not touching it, even though it is antique truth about low tech. And the population shall accept it that way, because they shall feel close.

4.2.2

Mask truth section

Truth shall be masked by introducing half-truths. Purpose is to avoid discovery about the conspirats by keeping the population unaware of the overall truth.

4.3

Production & destruction department

4.3.1

Research and development section

New technologies shall be discovered, but those technologies that might threaten the conspiracy, if employed by the population, shall be taken away from the population by dismissing these as wrong technologies. Inventors of these shall be taken away from the population. Groups of population shall develop these technologies in parts; each group a different part; none of the groups knowing from eachother any connecting information. New technologies shall not disrupt the monetary fundaments; if these do, then these shall be covered up.

Product allocation section

Products of any kind shall be allocated according to strict selection and rules to the population. There shall be numerous variations of each product, in order to slow down the population's insight and analytical qualities.

4.3.3

Crime and warfare section

Inventions shall be tested in situations that are justified. Construction shall go hand in hand with destruction. So there shall be war. Crime rate shall be boosted to disarm the public by itself.

Lifeform division

Quantity and quality of lifeforms shall be set and enforced.

Bodies department

Drugs, virus and genetics section

Drugs and diseases shall be introduced as to generate economic welfare in order to fund resources that are needed to execute evil. No effective and economical medical treatment shall be allowed, for it would defeat the purpose of evil. Any inventor of such healing treatment shall be kept away from the population. There shall only be treatments that trigger diseases after disease, whilst giving the impression that diseases are healed, in order to control organism population. Artificial life elements, objects and systems shall be developed and shall replace mortal biophysical life elements, objects and systems. Bioweapons shall be developed to exterminate unnecessary biolife. Covert extermination shall be executed through health organizations and medical assistance.

There shall be less than one billion people on Terwat, half of which be chosen because of their natural obedience inherited from ancient religions. Ultimately there shall be only human beings and no other biolife on Terwat unless artificial and fully controlled. Thus mankind shall become ready for expansion on alien planets.

Thoughts & feelings department

5.2.1

Reasoning enforcement section

By making large groups think the same way, mankind shall be kept under control, thus attention shall be drawn concerning denominators such as race, sex, religion, language, style, and philosophy, in order to support evil. Humans that react too naturally shall be locked up in lunatic asylums, but not killed because they shall serve as warnings.

Mysticism and anti-happiness section

A house of mysticism shall be conceived : A djurz, and the buildings shall have the shape of conventional rockets that are stuck in their launching towers, because that will restimulate the forgetter in the mind the population caused by the mind erasing exodus. To minimize growth of (super-)consciousness and rationality, spiritual busyness shall be introduced, such as religions in order to apply mysticism to optimize distraction from truth and to keep the population in a state of hypnotism. The population shall go to djurz regularly, to worship the unknown, making them think about what they do wrong when it is right, and right when it is wrong. The population shall believe in something that cannot be defined, thus putting themselves below rationality while being in a state of unawareness. Believing in something outer undefined, however, causes mankind to shift ultimate responsibility to the outer undefined; therefore, the djurz religion shall be forbidden, although tolerated till further notice, because lack of ultimate responsibility makes mankind an easy object to manipulate.

5.3

Food and auxiliary life department

5.3.1

Insect strategies & tactics section

Presence of certain insects shall allow higher animals to live and mankind to be teased. Other insects shall cause plants to die and mankind to be teased even more. As far as vegetation is concerned, the population shall be forced to use chemicals in order to protect their food from insects, but the chemicals shall introduce diseases and genetic deviations. Insects shall be organized in a way that for the population it is not possible to normally live with them or without them. Thus only the fittest of the population shall evolve properly.

5.3.2

Animals section

There shall be animals amongst the population as to spread diseases when eaten or when smelled or when touched. Their substances shall disturb the biophysical growth of the population. Animals shall keep the population busy, so that the population is distracted from becoming too smart in solving their own problems.

5.3.3

Chemicals and pollution section

There shall be production of chemicals, needed for advancement of new technologies. But the fabrication of chemicals, and the pollution thereof, shall shorten the life of the individual and shall bring about changes in the LRN so that new generations will bring new qualities of immunity, ideas and skills.

6

Evaluation division

Smoothness of evil evolution shall be set and enforced.

6.1

Public investigation department

6.1.1

Statistics section

General opinion and its realization shall be checked against the orders of the conspirators. All statistics shall show steady evolution of the super race, and steady disintegration of weak elements.

6.2

Private investigation department

6.2.1

Monitoring and tracking section

Agents shall continuously keep track of consistency of execution of evil and shall report exceptions to the executives of orders from the majestic supreme source and leader.

6.2.2

Governmental control

The population shall be divided into groups who shall be soft enemies yet working together. The groups shall be kept under control and shall work in order to maintain the government that keeps them under control. And they shall trust the government. Mistrust shall be punished severely.

6.3

Elections & rewards department

6.3.1

Encourage wrong opinion leaders section

Opinion leaders in all branches shall be trusted proportionally with the quality and quantity of lies and nonsense that they utter.

6.3.2

Untruth-achievers rewarding section

To make the population believe certain untruths to be true, makers of major untruth shall be publicly awarded and makers of major truth shall be publicly made ridiculous.

6.3.3

Leadership positioning section

Presidents of populations and major businesses shall be selected and monitored on their level of obedience to the orders of the conspirators. Presidents that deviate from the plan, shall be killed, in particular those who are not member of the conspirators.

7

Intexternal division

Upper tech shall be set and enforced.

7.1

Intergalactic contact department

7.1.1

Close encounters section

Exchange of knowledge between this planet and other planets shall be kept away from the population through denial of facts and inhibition or infiltration of research. Alien technology shall be captured and back-engineered in exchange for delivery of human species to support their bio-experiments. Knowledge gained by the population shall be extracted; the sources of facts shall receive treatment as to forget the origin of the facts, and where necessary, these sources shall be exterminated.

7.2

Audit and security department

7.2.1

Supreme source protection section

Occurrences of thought ridges, usually from contradicting mental or spiritual forces, shall be analyzed in order to find out how these mental walls can be bypassed through mind control programs. The influence of these forces to the conspirats shall be kept at maximum minimum. Aliens shall be assisted in order to extract their forces to the advantage of the conspirats, and vice versa; they shall form one union.

7.2.2

Evil secrecy control section

Thought curtains and lies shall be introduced as to keep the nucleus of evil imperceptible to the population and any other possible threat to the conspirats.

7.3

Data department

7.3.1

Universal news scan section

Exchange of information about events on other planets shall be kept away from the population by not making the technology available that would allow them to access the information flows.

7.3.2

Tech-level data section

Truth shall be extracted from intra & extra planetary technologies in order to support technological advancement. At public database access level, false facts shall be introduced and truth shall be masked in a way that it cannot be perceived properly by the population. Super race candidates will automatically be able to access truth. Information network technology shall be employed to control the entire population, in particular to grant access to life support in all aspects.

Views and prediction section

From time to time, about once every two thousand Terwat years, there shall be a major prophet, and several minor prophets in between, to bring about fear and confusion amongst mankind. Prophecies will both be right and wrong at once; the first to create fear, the second to create confusion. The major prophets shall come from higher tech level planets, in order to ease credibility. The minor prophets shall come from the home planet, because of needed vagueness. The major prophets shall bring long term fear, the minor prophets shall bring short term confusion. Prophets shall not be necessarily real.

I want to clear something up because I am getting the sense that you don't understand what the AVA is. Ad Vitam Aeternam is a class of information seekers within my faction of which I have never told you the name. The AVA is the elite of my culture however it is not our only class but merely our class of field leaders but not supreme leaders which rest above us in a way. In the future I will reveal some of the secrets of Ad Vitam Aeternam that I feel you will need to know if you are to fulfill fates promise.

The AVA is the elite of my culture however it is not our only class but merely our class of field leaders but not supreme leaders which rest above us in a way. In the future I will reveal some of the secrets of Ad Vitam Aeternam that I feel you will need to know if you are to fulfill fates promise. I'll start clearing things up for you. First my faction does collect info to sell, you don't know my factions name, within my faction we have teams all teams are led by members of a class within my culture and that class is the AVA.

There is a plan and it is designed for everyone but unless you know your role you won't make the final scene. The play is the thing. I've read the script so I am able to rehearse but you on the other hand have only been able to see a glimpse of the rewrite. You must seek the truth but not just from me you must find it also elsewhere for it is not solely my part to tell you everything you need to know. I am bound to my culture and its traditions don't allow me to reveal all of our worlds secrets. As far as the email was concerned I was wrong. I believed they had safeguarded my PC here as they have at other installations. I also believed they would object from my communication with you. Both, I have found, are false and in fact I guess I could get a generic email and mail from home but I just don't see that as a big benefit to myself as I would not really want to spend my whole day emailing.

Indeed I know what must be known but I cannot talk about that or the play itself. You will be safe if you can figure out your role. The word "Acts" what is it? Research it find something. The man on the hill, the sermon, the Emmanuel, who is that? Act 2 scene 1 what could that be? If truth is false then lies must be true but lies by their very nature cannot be true so indeed is there truth to find for those who do but seek? Do I contradict myself? Very well then I contradict myself I am large. I contain multitudes Find the meaning of Acts then you will see Act 2 scene 1.

The possible finding of "Deep Atlantis" turned out to be a truly intriguing find. The grays explored the area and came upon a planet that at one time harbored a civilization. It was not "Deep Atlantis" but instead a ghost planet where no thinking forms of life remained living. Details are sketchy but the Aliens and the United States government are showing strong interest in the place. NASA's Chandra observatory is far more than a telescope that views X-rays.

The last I heard of the place the Aliens had located strange towers within the vast cities of this planet that emitted lights at certain times of that planet's days. Another thing that began happening is the main force of MIB sent in which is the elite "Bra Di San" corps has disappeared and is presumed lost. It's a bizarre scenario but the technology doesn't seem to be anywhere near that which was able to construct the Blue Water craft. I'm hoping to get in touch with a few of my closest friends in AVA and try and get more info on this story. Now about the Gammas. I can't speak of them now, it would be a mistake to discuss them with you and it could actually cost our lives depending on how resourceful we are.

Tell me something George, do you talk to anyone else who may give you info true or false on any of this type of thing. I would be interested in hearing what they have to say especially if they have some info on other countries as I know very little world info. Who knows maybe someone else out there really knows what's happening.

I guess no real info is out on the web. No one really talks about this stuff and if they do they are easily shut down if what they say is too important. They must know I am still talking to you and yet no one has come for me. I never told you about my true faction have I? I believe I have only told you about the branch I have been trained in, Ad Vitam Aeternam.

Well my true faction has a name that translates into "Knowledge, Light of Breath" it loses a lot in the translation. Anyway we are what can be considered a race in that we are brought up in a certain society distanced from all others. We are knowledge gatherers. We keep the balance of power from shifting too greatly to one side or another. Our history begins in late 18th century Florence. A group of Freemasons attempted to break off from what is referred to as the Illuminati. They ended up stopping in Ireland and then the Americas. What eventually evolved was a worldwide intelligence gathering corporation. The true structure of my society is far too immense to get into detail about at this late hour but perhaps someday you and I may get a chance to sit down and discuss it.

By The Way Actually my first contact with you was when I told you I had info that you may be interested in. The subject was flying blue water so that why I answered it in that way. Now down to the business at hand. I can't believe they have Ovid after me. I hate that guy and how he's always quoting that damn book of love or whatever the hell it is.

Hey do you still have contact with him because maybe I could use that to my advantage. Don't worry George I would never cut your throat; it's not too smart to tell someone all your secrets and then murder them. Come on George, he got you. I wish you wouldn't have told him I was AVA because now he pretty much knows all my options in escaping this.

Background: my email address is not really what it appeared to be. It was a cover, what we would refer to as leech-mail. I'm not going to tell you where I was really but he accessed my account in the same way. Ovid works for a counter-intelligence corp that specializes in "mole-patrol" or the eradication of spies. I can't believe he thought I told you about the Gammas. Oh well I'll show that lightweight what I can really do. About a month and a half ago they were waiting for me at my apartment. However I had the best kind of security money can't buy (here's a quick tip for you just in case you ever need it: old Asian woman see everything and if you can befriend them you will never walk into the unknown).

So Mrs. Kyo told me that men had entered my apartment and she had heard nothing since then. I left, rounded the corner, they followed, but by the time they realized that I had lost them I had already cleaned out the apartment of all necessities. Now they have to finish the job. I cannot contact anyone within my faction for fear of chain reaction losses. I'm not sure quite what to do but if I eliminate the hunter then I may have a shot.

I'm in the Napa Valley right now running through the vineyards from hotel to hotel and working off this old laptop I have. I guess you can't really help me at all. Don't worry about telling them who I am affiliated with it's no big deal. I told you before that I wouldn't make it to act 2 and I guess I was right. I'm sorry George that I couldn't tell you all you need to know and forgive me for wasting some time on some of the more radical things you talked about because I realize now there wasn't as much time as I thought. The people that I said were monitoring our conversations were my people. We had no idea Galan corp. was also following me and collecting intelligence on my operation.

The girl I met I hope is safe but I can't be sure even though I told her nothing. I should have told you about the Gamma's. That is what's going to shape the world in the coming millennium. That and one more thing. The Aliens found something. About a month ago in far space an exploratory squadron picked up signals from a solar system yet unvisited. These signals I have been told are not just any signal but ones that were able to interface with the Blue water craft. The Aliens are hoping and believing that these signals may be the link. Deep Atlantis may have been found, finally and with it a lot may be explained. I really don't know what this will bring but it's gotten me excited. I only hope that I am still here to learn the truth.

The one who called himself Orpheus has the graduation name of "Aquinas" because he is Christian. He used Orpheus because he was dealing with us Grecian/Romans such as myself and Ovid. that part is a little bit too complex to go into but my true graduation name is JM. I figured since it was revealed to you I might as well use it when I address you. JM was just a name that was close to mine that I could get a piggyback lock on and use it.

Regarding the questions of New Years and the women. I have had no contact with you since the summer of 1999. It is really me George and I have some interesting things to tell you. Right now though I'm going to lay down for a little nap. Oh and I want to apologize to you for the way Aquinas spoke to you. He doesn't understand who you are and what you're going to become. Take care old friend.

I didn't just come to talk to you out of nowhere. I was sent to see what you know. I do believe you know what an oracle is. In my culture we still believe and honor them and somehow somewhere a decree was sent out from an oracle in Europe that a man who could determine the fate of us all was alive and certain parties would like for this man to be destroyed. It was said that you were the man and my faction was contracted out to research and destroy this man once found.

Through conversations with me my superiors determined that you were not the man. They had some reservations about letting you remain living due to some of the information I gave you but I reasoned with them and they realized you were more an asset of disinformation rather than a martyr so they let you be. Sorry I haven't told you this before but I didn't want you to be upset. Oh well we are all puppets at some point or another, it's just a matter if we are strong enough to cut the strings.

I'm sure you'll figure out who this is. I've found myself to be in the company of some spare time and felt I'd write to you. How are you old friend? Everything going good I hope? I've had a few tight spots over the past couple of years but with the exception of a toe lost to gangrene I've done pretty good. My troubles have now been reduced to 6 if you understand what I'm trying to get across. I see you've expanded your site and have put some of the things I've discussed with you up for anyone to see. This is fine but what disappoints me is it seems you've misinterpreted some of the things I've told you and have been listening to others who have no idea what they are talking about. If anything it renders your site ineffective.

Oh well no matter It's good to see you're still questioning. You know a month or so ago I heard they got the guy who I mistook you for. His name was Herman Weingardt and he was German. I guess I wasn't as good as I thought I was back then huh? Anyway AVA ops led by the one you knew as Ovid met up with him outside a pub in London while he was on holiday and escorted him back to his hotel room. There they interrogated him before performing the ten cuts (a series of cuts where the genitalia is removed first and the outcome is a slow death). Poor bastard. Oh well I'm hoping this finds you in much better circumstances than our friend Herman. Remember the best questions are those whose answers yield revelations not of the fantastic unknown but rather of why it is beautiful to simply be alive. True meaning lies amongst the fields of what others misinterpret as ordinary, they being fools and leading lives of hopeless wanting.

End of contact.

I never heard from him again.

What preceded this contact was a UFO sighting I had on June 26, 1993, Sunday afternoon around 18:00 at Mount Saleve in France near Geneva Switzerland.

The day after, I wrote GeneSys. This was the Alien story of the creation of the universe. Here is the summary.

The Alien GeneSys Files

This is the story that I wrote the day after my UFO sighting on June 26, 1993 in France near Geneva, Switzerland. I wrote it in one go. I have no idea how I got to this story other than perhaps caused by the encounter I had.

0.00 - PHASE : ZERO - STEP : ZERO

Before the beginning there was a silent cry that had no thought that had no feeling that had no wavelength that had no space that had no motion that had no time that had no location that had no form that had no energy that had no mass that was no being that had no existence that had no consciousness which was in a dreamless sleep.

And that was the reposing cry of data about data uttered by desire for life
and admiration for its potentials of pleasure to be lasting three hundred eleven trillion and forty billion years.

Thus there was spirit one single many alone ready to divide and to multiply into countless numbers and kinds.

Such was the Zero.

1.01 - PHASE : ONE - STEP : ONE

In the beginning the zero wavelength of the spirit increased and it was the end of a long elastic toneless song yearning for creation without words or modulation without sound without silence without intention without information without process.

And another genesis day of four billion three hundred and twenty million years commenced.

A space only composed of timeless and motionless matter whose boundaries were universal everywhere
and nowhere.

A border-less ocean of beingness of a silent gravity whose beingness is granted by the limitless subjectivity who became limitless objectivity.

Thus there was space and gravity for an aetherial universe to come like a sphere
whose center is everywhere and circumference is nowhere.

Such was the First.

1.02 - PHASE : ONE - STEP : TWO

And gravity holding in existence the nowhere extremities of space that were omni present gave birth to modulation of the homogeneous song of the aethereal matter.
And it was in the ending of the event of endless loneliness of space presence.

Ultra low gravity frequencies patiently nurturing the aethereal matter allowed change in position
so there were singing waves.

Thus there was motion and time.

Such was the Second.

1.03 - PHASE : ONE - STEP : THREE

And variations in location of the eternal song its tonalities of desire becoming hope
gave birth to structuring forces that carried the continuation of persistence so that nothing after be the same as before.

The force continuously generated by this invaded and embraced and went from and returned into the entire ocean of space.

Such was the third.

And the third was first.

And the second was first.

And the first was first.

So creation could take place in the triple container of existence
where the shores and the sea were one.

And many locations of flood and ebb of creation followed.

Thus there were universes
each of their own kind according to the length of waves of their aethereal sea of locations.

Such was the Third.

2.04 - PHASE : TWO - STEP : FOUR

And the extremities of universes within space deflated
under the embracing gravity so the aethereal song released its notes becoming more dense forming astral foundations.

And numerous building elements were resultants of concentrations of density.

So there were universes of structure without radiance without form without quality without aspect inhabiting space
each of their own kind
in evolutions to come.

Thus there was form.

Such was the Fourth.

3.05 - PHASE : THREE - STEP : FIVE

And the space particles in the universes became compressed
by the dense points of gravity caused by expansion of the universes that are woven out of their own substance to the extent that the particles formed spherical clones from nebulous matter.

And the elements were solid or liquid or gas or plasma or aether or time-space or data.

And the change into spheres generated their time by the endless dance of their rotation
so the spheres could persist in a universe and each one of them was surrounded by its own sphere of time and because two times could not be at the same location
the spheres could not kiss one another.

Thus there were concentrations of energy and mass
separated by their times.

Such was the Fifth.

3.06 - PHASE : THREE - STEP : SIX

And a ball expelled particles

from its skin to form a spherical woven illuminating dress around it.

And many spheres did so.

And another ball remained naked to grant beingness to the dressed by emanation of caressing and feeding aethereal waves while gently reflecting the illumination from the dressed.

And many other spheres did so.

Certain stars preferred to be the messengers of information and they redistributed
but did not radiate in certain spectra so they hid themselves within their own inside allowing others illumination to pass through them.

Thus there were light stars and dark stars and invisible stars.

Such was the Sixth.

4.07 - PHASE : FOUR - STEP : SEVEN

And stars were close one another in a spherical choir
of existence
that emanated their song forever as a symphony of nurturing existence to others.

And there were many choirs farther one another.

They have taken the task to allow beingness without bearing life themselves.

Thus there were globular galaxies.

Such was the Seventh.

4.08 - PHASE : FOUR - STEP : EIGHT

And a globular galaxy symmetrically expelled stars from its outside equator to form light spokes of life permitting ovums
and dark spokes of life feeding sources and invisible spokes of life updating information.

And the spokes turned graciously with the dance of the globular galaxy and they became spirals as they went through the resistance of space waves going through them.

And many globular galaxies expelled stars and so forth.

And many did not.

Thus there were flat galaxies who cannot enjoy their existence without embracing a globular one but the globular are the hands ever ready to give.

Such was the Eighth.

5.09 - PHASE : FIVE - STEP : NINE

In a flat galaxy
a star spread out most of its particles into the shape of a veil leaving equilibrium of space and time and energies for the others

within the beauty of a nebula whose light
made darkness visible.
And many stars did so.

In a flat galaxy
a smaller star wandering around a bigger star repelled particles from its outer dress
during a moment of forgotten gravity and the particles formed a halo around the star and when the gravity was remembered again
the halo contracted and solidified into a spherical crust and the small star remained in the center of it and the outside did not shine and a planet was born.
And many smaller stars did so.

Tiny stars close around it first illuminated the outside crust by themselves but then they too became dressed by their repelled particles and so they reflected the light from the bigger star onto the spherical crust of the planet around which they dance.

And many tiny stars did so.
Thus there were nebulae and planets and moons be they visible or not visible some were close in groups others were far in other groups to inhabit the galaxy.

Such was the Ninth.

5.10 - PHASE : FIVE - STEP : TEN

The bigger star
gravitationally invited
the planets in her group who had their place and motion
in mutual respect for one another.

And many big stars did so.

And a planet
gravitationally invited
moons in the neighborhood
so that they complement to the mass of the planet in accordance to the harmony of mutual distance and speed of the planet and so that they reflect the life giving breath from the star in compatible wavelengths to the planet
by their orbit around the planet.

And many planets did so.

And planets revolved around
a star.

And other planets revolved around another star.

And so forth.

Thus there were solar systems each a group of planets revolving around a star
and each moon revolving around a planet or joining orphans in concentric orbit.

Such was the Tenth.

6.11 - PHASE : SIX - STEP : ELEVEN

The silent cry of the very beginning finally reached its destination on the planets
and mirrored its admiration and desire for life
in their minerals that in their turn were bearing foundations of the instructions of pleasure.

So it were the life routine nuclei initialized by the waves of the universe
and on the planets they are receiving reflections from the moons and radiations from the stars that interacted with the environment so different species generating each their own time were developed in the space of beauty and of peace.

Thus there were life routine nuclei each for a species
according to its kind.

Such was the Eleventh.

7.12 - PHASE : SEVEN - STEP : TWELVE

The spirits from before the very beginning were separated and multiplied from the one single spirit and many of them took minds to search for their dwellings in life's species farther away from the zero spirit and there was perception and attraction and communication in them and between them.

And so there were energies and minerals and plants and animals
and humans and spirits
all filled with intelligence.

Via their senses
they perceived that which was without and within them and it made them moving to perceive more and to be where they wanted to and how the life routine nuclei wanted them to be or not to be.

The aetherial being had no reasoning and no gender and first found its existence in boneless bodies of non-fixed shape.

Then
other bodies were giant with bones and reasoning and similarity and later they became more compact with mentality and rationality.

The interface between the zero spirit and the mind is the spirit and the interface
between the spirit and the body is the mind with astral mediator
and the interface
between the mind and matter is the body
and the interface between the body and energy is matter.

All the kinds of life are recorded in the life routine nuclei each at their own level of existence.

The humans transformed their perceptions via thought and affinity into knowledge.

And knowledge communicated by language turned into creativity.

Thus there was intelligence and creativity.

Such was the Twelfth.

8.13 - PHASE : EIGHT - STEP : THIRTEEN

Before the end the creation of the humans came into accelerating existence through destruction of minerals and plants
and animals
and humans
and celestial bodies and minds.

Technologies became impregnated with purposes
behind appearances of communication and art and beauty of philosophy and religion of organization of science of power
as it all rose beyond control in the spectra of life and death.

The great cycle of life
was zero spirit
then beings without form or substance then spirits and souls and intellect then substantial entities then dual spiritual and physical then sentient invisible physical then intelligence

then merged physical and spiritual plasma then programmed life routine nuclei then bodily life
then cognitional life
then astral life
then disembodied life
then becoming more spirit ready to go back to zero spirit.

Thus there was decay
the basis for progression to where destination merges with departure after traveling between the boundaries of eternity.

Such was the Thirteenth.

9.14 - PHASE : NINE - STEP : FOURTEEN

In the end
it was the beginning of a long rigid toneless weeping by the spirits without amplitude or modulation and so they merged into a choir of a lonely light
who had forgotten to cry.

A space
void of admiration or desire for life
only composed of emptinesses whose boundaries
were universal everywhere
and nowhere.

A border-less ocean of silence enforced by frozen aethereal matter condensed into nothing.

And another cycle was over.

Thus there was nothing at the end of the day.

Such was the Last.

10.00 - PHASE : MINUS NOTHING - STEP : PLUS NOTHING

And another night after the end it took four billion three hundred and twenty million years
before again the beginning of one of the three hundred sixty times such days and nights of genesis.

Until the end of all where there would not be any cry anymore till the beginning of nothing that forever would be.

How many such cyclic nights would have passed the dreams of death already and so how many days
of life
and learning to be together one would still be left over of the one single genesis year remains unknown to the spirit but space
who is omniscience and omni intelligence till the end of all ends.

This concludes the story. It floats in blue water. I never heard from special agent Jason Mangas again.
